The first record of a Protestant group getting together was in 1867 when Methodist worship services were held in the Manor schoolhouse. All went well until an irate taxpayer of a different faith put a padlock on the door. The people under persecution were forced to make a decision as to whether to build a church.

5002481

By 1896 the feeling in the Manor area became general that a church should be built, but where? One group wanted it to be built on Fred Brenneman's land near the Lake-to-Sea Highway. The other group contended that most of the people who attended services at the schoolhouse would have too far to travel. William Brenneman offered land at the crossroads on his farm and that is where the Manor Church is today (two miles south of Lake-to-Sea Highway). A second church was built the same year on the Fred Brenneman land but it never had members, just supporters. It did not become a part of the Methodist Episcopal Church and was disbanded after a few years. The church building was sold by the trustees to the Free Methodists in Shippenville in 1914. The church land was bought by Arch Brenneman who sold it to Curt Beers in 1923. (Now "Country Fair" and "Bonanza" are built on the land.)

The following are items of interest about the periodic church services that were held in the Manor schoolhouse: Lay leaders of nearby communities were the speakers; they were called "local preachers". Mr. Spangler, a grist mill operator of Strattanville, was one of them. Students from Carrier Seminary, a Methodist school, now Clarion State College, were speakers. Retired ministers helped out; one whom many people remember was the late Reverend B.F. Delo.

From the Clarion Democrat of April 1, 1897 is copied:

A meeting of the members of the M.E. church to be organized was held in the Manor schoolhouse on Saturday, Mar. 27th. Trustees and a building committee were selected. Work on the new building will begin at once and pushed forward as rapidly as circumstances will permit.

The Paint Township school board evidently was not aware of the plans for the Manor Church to be built because from the May 20, 1897 copy of the Clarion Democrat one may read:

When the school board of this township meets on the first Monday in June the right of certain of our people to conduct religious services in the Manor schoolhouse will be the matter for this settlement.

According to information obtained from the Clarion County Deed Book, (Vol. 98, p. 477), land for the Manor Church was secured by a deed between Sena and William Brenneman and the following trustees: Stewart Snyder, John Wagner, William Wagner, Urban Bell, James Brown, Joseph McElhatten, John McClain, Samuel Kiser, and Samuel Young.

As to location of the land, the deed reads:

Church lot beginning at a white oak running N.30W. 100 ft. along furnace road to a post, then south 43W. 110 ft. to a post, then S.57east 130 ft. to a gum, thence on a straight line to place of beginning.

An interesting phrase in the deed is "Because of a desire to promote the cause of Christianity in Manor."

From the June, 1897 Clarion Democrat, a Manor item reads: "The members of the M.E. congregation have finally commenced work on erection of the new house of worship." On November 3, 1897 a comment is as follows: "The new church is now ready for worship."

On a day between June 3 and November 3 the cornerstone was laid. The exact date cannot be determined. Mrs. Alice Bell, age 101, who resides at Garmong Convalescent Home in Clarion, remembers that in the cornerstone were put a Bible, a newspaper, piece of silver money, and a Sunday School quarterly.

Those five months must have been busy ones as most of the work was done by local people. Jerry McElhatten who lived across Deer Creek, west of Manor, was probably the only paid worker. He built the beautiful pulpit which is still in use today. A list of natives who helped with the building work is as follows: Amos Wagner, William Wagner, Charley Thompson, Sam Wagner, Urban Bell, George Groce, George Cook, John Rapp, Jacob Botts, Wade Yound, Sam Kiser, Jo McElhatten, Dave, Miles and John McClain, Stewart Snyder, and Charley Botts, who was the blacksmith. The teams of John Wagner and John Groce did the hauling.

A type of seat was selected that the minister's wife, Mrs. Frampton, knew was uncomfortable. She offered to pay the difference in the price of the better seats, which were purchased. The Epworth organ was purchased from Richard Engers, a music teacher, who was teaching a class of girls, and who later played the organ for church services.

Sam Kiser donated pipe for gas to be piped from a Brenneman well.

The large Bible was given to the church by a social and benefit organization of Shippenville called the Equitable Aid Union. On the fly-leaf in the Bible the above information is given, only as being donated by the E.A.U., and research had to be done to know what the letters meant.

Mr. Jacob Shull of Shippenville (a cabinet maker and furniture dealer) donated the pulpit chairs.

Approximately 80 years ago the Presbyterians at Leatherwood built a new church and the windows from the old church were good, but not in use. Miss Marie Hamm of Brinkerton was the teacher at the Manor School and was boarding with Mr. and Mrs. Charley Thompsom. She told of the windows, not in use, at her church, and the building committee got busy and at a satisfactory price purchased the windows that are now in the church at Manor.

Observers report that the church is very well built. It has been noted that the laborers who built the church were folks who lived here. But let it not be thought that the building was carelessly constructed by amateurs. Among the natives were several skilled carpenters. One such was Sam Wagner who did the sloping floor. Another was William Wagner who was not only a good carpenter, but was a "big push" in soliciting money.

Etta Wagner Elslager was a young girl at the time and asked her uncle, William Wagner, whether the church could have a steeple and a bell. "Not now, perhaps someday when we have enough money" was the reply. To this day there never has been "enough money".

Mr. W. L. Samson, Methodist lay minister, and editor of the Clarion Democrat of February 7, 1898, wrote concerning the Manor Church which was dedicated February 13, 1898:

The new church is a model of neatness and comfort and is handsomely furnished. It is sufficiently commodious for any occasion likely to occur in the community. It stands as evidence of the loyalty of those who espoused the cause as well as their liberality and determination. May it always be a joy and blessing to all the people in its vicinity.

In 1898, Manor became the fifth member church of the Shippenville Charge, Methodist Episcopal Church of Erie Conference. Shippenville had been a member since the time it was formed in 1836. Elk City, an oil boom town, was added to the charge in 1876. Later Haven became the third member, and Providence, sometimes known as Delo's Chapel, was the fourth. Elk City and Haven were members of the Shippenville Charge for over 40 years, after which time the congregations disbanded and the churches were sold.

Being the fifth member of the Shippenville Charge, and having the fewest members, Manor never had a choice of time for service. In early years preaching service was held every two weeks in the afternoon. After Elk City and Haven were dropped, preaching service was available each Sunday afternoon, changed to evening in summer. Now the minister has three services in the morning: Manor 8:50; Providence 10:00 and Shippenville 11:10.

The Manor Church has never had janitor service; women clean periodically. But - someone had to be responsible for having the building warm. John Rapp lit the fire when gas was available the first few years.. For most of the years it was not available and some member of the Miller family, or Emory Hartzell, built the coal fire in a "pot-bellied" stove. Fellowship was pleasant around a watched fire in a big, old, coal stove. But who misses roasting on one side and freezing on the other, or the dust of coal ashes on the seats, or choking with smoke when the wind came from the east, or the deafening sound of someone poking the fire at the climax of a sermon? All are remembered very vividly by this writer.

Gas became available, and in 1951 a gas stove with a thermostat was purchased from Scott Carson. Floyd Myers now makes himself available to light the fire each Saturday evening.

Oil lamps were still in use at the Manor Church during the depression. The minister could not see the faces of the people as he preached. In the middle-thirties, members longed for gas lights. Helen Miller asked her artist cousin, Alice FitzGerald of Washington D.C. to paint a picture of the church with lights streaming from the windows, and under the picture to have a space for the names of those who would pay the one dollar ($1.00) gas bill for a month. Enough names were secured and gas lights were enjoyed until electricity became available. In 1946, wiring was done by H.G. Murray, Ralph Murray and E.J. Miller. Contributions were solicited by Mrs. H.E. Cook. Material for wiring, lights, including inspection and membership fee in Central Electric Corp. of Parker, cost $61.00.

At Manor there is a difference of opinion as to how money should be secured. Some think the Church is important enough to be supported by weekly contributions. Others desire to make money by having festivals, street sales, and rummage sales. In the very early days Mrs. William Wagner, Mrs. John McClain, and Mrs. S.S. Snyder believed in both methods if the affairs were in good Christian fellowship. But -- festivals on the Manor Church lawn became known as a place for fist fights. Certain young men "imbibed too freely" and bullies encouraged them to fight. Consequently ice cream socials were discontinued for many years.

The first minister was the Rev. Cyrus H. Frampton who began his Shippenville ministry in 1894. Evidently he was asked to help with the founding of the church in the nearby community of Manor. He must have had a busy pastorate because the year the Manor Church was dedicated the church at Providence burned and was rebuilt.

Ministers who have served the Manor Church are Cyrus H. Frampton, F.F. Reddinger, H.E. Phipps, A.B. Wilkinson, G.D. Walker, G.W. Fuller, W.H. Robinson, L.E. Elbel, A.M. Swarmer, R.S. Naylor, C.E. Deem, L.W. Chambers, A.J. Renwick, P.C. Heilbrum, Mark H. Parry, K.B. Lininger, E.T. Jones, W.H. Harmon, J.L. Peck, J.C. Kelly, V.H. Oviatt, W.J. Baldwin, James Frampton, Thomas O. Dusch, Wilbur Larson, Nicola Grenci, Earl Magill, John Boor, Robert Patton, Richard Eddinger, and Jack Reaugh Sr. Larson, Grenci, Magill and Boor were student pastors, as they were earning the Bachelor's degree at Clarion State College. They were a delight to the parishioners because it was a joy to watch them improve in ability in the few years they served.

Methodists are accustomed to occasional visits by the District superintendent. In the very early days they distinguished themselves by wearing long-tailed coats. In horse and buggy days they stayed overnight at a member's home. The Rev. Reddinger told of staying at Bill Brenneman's where he almost froze. Mrs. Sena Brenneman, the frugal Danish housewife, used only the kitchen and one bedroom of a large farmhouse. There was no heat in the dining room, parlor, or bedrooms, which were only used on very special occasions, and the minister was considered "special". The Rev. Dan Platt, usually had a meal at the John Wagner home, as he and Mrs. Wagner were schoolmates at Fisher. He is remembered distinctly for the manner in which he "read" the scripture. He announced his text, but never looked at the Bible. He had memorized it all, it seemed.

From a certificate which Mrs. Bertha Kiser Brenneman kept from childhood we know that Joseph McElhatten was the first superintendent of the Sunday School and Mrs. George Groce was one of the teachers. On Easter Sunday 1898, she received the certificate for donating a dollar to a missionary. Phoebe Wagner Thompson was an organizer of great ability who helped get the Sunday School started.

Three men have had terms as being Sunday School superintendent: S.S. Snyder, U.T. Bell, and E.J. Miller. Recently women have served in that capacity; Mrs. Bonnie Myers Meir is the present superintendent.

Four women of Manor have given at least 20 years of outstanding service as Sunday School teachers. In 1914 Mr. and Mrs. E.J. Miller moved from Clarion, having bought the William Brenneman farm. Mrs. Miller became the adult teacher. When Sunday School was held in the afternoon preceding the church service, ministers told that they came early, especially to hear her teach the lesson.

Mrs. Etta Wagner Elslager taught the young people at Manor for twenty five years. Many adults at the present time can testify to her ability as a teacher.

In November, 1927, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cook of Clarion moved to this area. Mrs. Cook taught the adults and she is still quoted as lessons are studied.

Since 1914 Helen Miller Myers has been a participant in Manor Church activities. She joined the church after the Rev. L.E. Elbel conducted a summer training session for children. For 53 years she has been teaching Sunday School - all but 15 years at Manor - formerly teaching young people but now teaching the adults.

Mr. E.J. Miller attended more services at Manor than any man living or dead. From March 1914 to November 1959 he was present almost every Sunday. For many years he was the only man who attended Sunday School. During that time eleven ministers served the Charge, and he never stayed home because he didn't like the preacher.

Children's Day programs have always been popular at Manor. Down through the years people have come out for such occasions more than any other type of service.

Maggie Young, Bertha Kiser, and Erma Thompson were the first organists. Clara Kiser and Frank Kiser played often during the years. Mrs. George Elslager and Mrs. Earl Cook played most of the time they were residents in the community. Gladys Elslager Kiser, Hazel Groce Snyder, and Lillian Bell Kiser played for Sunday School when they were in their teens. For the last forty years a piano has been used. The old Epworth organ is sometimes used at special services. Mrs. Lila Erenneman Myers is the present pianist.

At Christmas time, in 1947, Manor Sunday School treated all the children of the community. The list included: Dick, James and Jeannie Aaron; Katherine Bryan; Howard, Lorraine, Ethel and Sharon Beers; Lois, Phyllis, Edgar, Fred, Bill, Lee, Rebecca, Lucille, Bonnie, Raymond and Bobby Bell; Peggy Bish; June, Nancy and Eddie Bouch; Bobby Gordon; Glenn, Mildred, Harold and Robert McClune; Hardy Miller; Betty, Edward, Robert, Shirley, Louise, James, Walter, and Shelby Murray; Harry, Lloyd, Delbert, Karl, Allen and Gerald Myers; Patty, Grant and Gary Groce; Clifford, Esther, Ethel and Jack Hartzell; Mary Jane, Donna Lou, Carolyn, John and Esther Kaufmann; Patty, Mary, Betty and Bill Lannigan; Mary Jane and Jack McClain; Jimmy Space; Louise, Stewart and Clyde Wagner; Jimmy Vosberg; Eleanor, Freddy, Keith and Russell Winkler. Others who were the elderly in the community, made the total number eighty-nine. Eighty-nine sacks of candy and eighty-nine oranges, plus eighty-nine whistles were reported as given. Mrs. H. G. Murray was the very capable treasurer of the Sunday School who kept the above record.

During the last 25 years the following have been presented as gifts or memorials: the outside bulletin board by E.J. Miller; candelabra by Mr. and Mrs. C.C. Beers; altar table by Beryl Bost; baptismal stand by Levi Snyder family; vases by Good Samaritans; flags by Mrs. LeRoy Groce; guest book by Genny Young Varvorines; and offering plates by Guy Murray.

In the early years the position as treasurer was a fairly simple one. But, beginning twenty years ago the conference has demanded so many complicated reports that it became hard to get anyone to do the job.

Fortunately Mrs. LeRoy Groce became a member and has been an excellent treasurer for 17 years.

Only one organization in the church has lasted more than a couple years. "The Good Samaritans" was organized at the home of Greta Chaney January 30, 1957. The first officers were: Greta Chaney, President; Olive Murray, Secretary; and Veda Kiser, Treasurer. Meetings have been held monthly at the homes of members with March set aside each year for "Auntie" Bell's birthday party. She was 81 at the first party and for twenty years she has been honored, each March 18. At this writing in November, 1977, she is still interested in where the group meets and in what is being done.

The first wedding in the Manor Church was July 2, 1899. Following a Children's Day service, the couple, Pearl Wagner and Bert Butler, came to be married. They were accompanied by George Troutner and Tillie McClain. The Rev. Cyrus H. Frampton performed the ceremony. A dinner followed at the bride's home. Then the bridal party went for a ride. How did they go? It was in a "surrey with a fringe on top". Where did they go? It was to Shippenville as far as Baker Hill on the other side of town, then turned around and came home.

For thirty years Helen Miller never saw the church full except at funerals. She dreamed of the day she could be married in the church and invite enough people to fill it. That day came June 28, 1947.

The second wedding was 48 years after the first one and was that of Helen Miller and George Myers. The wedding ceremony was performed by the Rev. J.C. Frampton, brother of the minister who performed the first wedding. Floyd Myers was his brother's best man and Belle Carson, a former teacher of Manor School, was bridesmaid. Mrs. Meriam Alexander of Clarion played the bridal march on the Epworth organ which had been in the church since it was founded. An aunt of the bride, Mrs. Charles FitzGerald, sang several numbers. The ladies of Prosperity Grange, with Jean Groce's mother in charge, served at a reception on the Miller lawn, which is near the church.

How can this writer express adequately why a church with 24 members should be allowed to exist! First, those who come probably would not go to another church. Why? I don't know. For eighty years the folks at the little white church at the crossroads have worked to accomplish the goal, to "promote the cause of Christianity" expressed in the 1897 deed. Hopefully, because the church building has been kept open and in good condition (aluminum siding was applied in August), sometime in the near future, in fast growing Paint Township, there will be many people to "promote the cause of Christianity" in the Manor community.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry, no matter how small, should be recorded to ensure the integrity of the financial data. This includes not only sales and purchases but also expenses and income. The second part of the document provides a detailed breakdown of the accounting process, starting with the identification of transactions, followed by their classification into debits and credits. It then explains how these entries are posted to the general ledger and how they are used to prepare the financial statements. The third part of the document discusses the importance of reconciling the accounts to ensure that the books are balanced and that there are no discrepancies. It also mentions the need for regular audits to detect any errors or fraud. The final part of the document provides a summary of the key points discussed and offers some advice on how to improve the accounting process.

APPENDIX

The following is copied from the Clarion news of 1948.

Over 150 persons crowded into the Manor Church for the observance of the 50th anniversary Saturday evening. The highlight of the affair was the presence of Rev. C.H. Frampton who was the pastor and dedicated the church 50 years ago. Although 91 years of age he spoke in a very clear voice and gave many facts of the history of the church. Other past ministers present who spoke were: Rev. L.E. Elbel of Sharpsville, Rev. Kenneth Lininger of Pleasantville and Rev. James Frampton of Punxsutawney. Mary Jane Kaufman read a paper which she had prepared of the history of the church. Mrs. Guy Murray gave a detailed financial report of the redecorating expenses to which Rev. W.E. Davis of Brookville, the District Supt., responded. Rev. W.J. Baldwin, the Pastor, concluded the services with a challenge to the future of Manor Church.

Mrs. Guy Murray was general chairman, Mrs. C.M. Wagner was chairman of the group serving the picnic supper. Mrs. Helen Miller Myers presided at the evening service. E.J. Miller and a group of young people decorated the church in the harvest home style. Mary Jane McClain, Mildred McClune, Mary Jane Kaufman and James Murray sent the invitations and had charge of games for the children. Mrs. W.J. Baldwin directed the choir.

Among those who attended from outside the community were: Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Botts, Mr. and Mrs. John Kiser, and Mrs. Stella Watson from Shippenville; Mrs. Arnold Benn, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Snyder and family, Mr. and Mrs. B.C. Elslager, Mr. and Mrs. George Elslager, Mrs. Lucy Taylor of Clarion; Mr. and Mrs. Amos Snyder and family and Mrs. Boyer of Brookville; Mr. and Mrs. Andy Gregg and son, Mrs. James Space and son of Erie; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Myers and son of Bradford; Harold Miller and son of Mt. Lebanon, Mrs. H.E. Cook of Warren; Mrs. Wilford Morrison of Columbus, Ohio; Mr. Harry Wagner of Oil City; Mrs. Dorothy Elslager Ferren and children of Franklin; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Crissman and family of Apollo; Rev. and Mrs. Lininger and daughter of Pleasantville, and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Groce and family of Conneaut, Ohio.

THE MEMORIAL CHURCH OF OUR FATHER

A short page of early history

After the Revolutionary War, the Episcopal Church in the United States set off into dioceses.

In 1787, this entire state became the Diocese of Pennsylvania.

In 1865, the western part was set off as the Diocese of Pittsburgh. Fishes and missions were organized in what was called the Erie Convocation. Mission stations were located along the Allegheny.

In 1910, this northern convocation became the Diocese of Erie. Fox had mission services from time to time.

In 1880, subscriptions in various amounts from some twenty-eight persons, made possible regular services for the next year.

In 1881, ground was broken and the corner-stone of a new church laid July 4. During this service the church received the name of "The Memorial Church of Our Father."

In 1882, the church was completed and furnished. Dedication services were held November 26, with Bishop Whitehead of the Diocese of Pittsburgh officiating. The first rector was Rev. Thomas A. Stevenson. A memorial service had been held in the unfinished church on June 22.

In 1883, a charter was granted. The incorporators were: Thomas A. Benson; J. V. Cowling, Sr.; W. B. Peters; Adam Miller; Samuel M. Robinson; Frank Dale; J. M. Fox and M. R. Morgan.

In 1884, a rectory, now used as a parish house was built. Dedication services were held November 26th.

In 1885, Parish Memorial Day was permanently established as June and a notice to that effect read to the congregation. Church Guild organized 1885.

Up to the present year, nineteen ministers have served this church. Hundreds of services have been held, baptisms, confirmations, marriages and funerals.

The church was built to the glory of God and in loving memory of Daniel M. and William Logan Fox and Miss Sarah Lindley Fox by members of their family.

THE MEMORIAL CHURCH OF OUR FATHER

EPISCOPAL
FOXBURG, PENNSYLVANIA 16036

Foxburg, Penna.
July 1, 1971

Dear Communicant;

This letter is to acquaint you with the recent actions of the Vestry of The Memorial Church Of Our Father.

The long drawn out Cemetery litigation has finally been settled. The Church is well protected, as is the Cemetery, (forever). The Cemetery securities that had been placed with an Advisory Agency of the Northwest Bank and Trust of Oil City in 1968, have now been placed in a Legal Trust, with the same banking institution. This Trust to be handled according to Court Order. All wills, deeds, legal papers etc. are to be held by the Vestry of the Memorial Church Of Our Father, who are the legal Trustee's for the Cemetery.

The land transfer to the Cemetery, started in 1964, and held up because of the Court litigation has been completed and recorded. The Church received eight thousand dollars (8000.00) for this small piece of land. The money from this transfer was put in a trust fund at the Marine Bank in Erie, Pa., for the Memorial Church Of Our Father at Foxburg, Penna., the Church to receive the income from this Trust annually. If at any time there is need for any part of the principal for a (major repair to the Church building), it can be drawn on thirty days notice to the Bishop.

This added income along with the income the Church will be receiving annually from the Cemetery Trust, hopefully will help to establish us as a Parish again. All litigation papers and correspondence for the past six years are filed with the Secretary of the Vestry and are open for inspection by any communicant of the Memorial Church Of Our Father.

The Bishop Crittenden sent a personal letter of commendation to the Vestry, that at last the litigation had been settled.

In 1965 a mortgage of $5000.00 was taken out on the Church Rectory. When this Vestry took over only $2200.00 had been paid on the debt, leaving a balance of $ 2800.00. We have reduced the debt to $ 2000.00 to date, and are hopeful of reducing it even more before the end of the year, so that the Church will have the benefit of the income, instead of the Bank.

The Church's high assessment and apportionment are paid in full to date, as well as $200. per month to Chestnut Hill for Capt. Phy's services. Repairs have been made in the powder-room of the Parish house, hot water tank repaired and cleaned, bulletin board and iron railings painted, Church basement door and windows repaired and painted, all at no cost to the Church other than materials. Installation of iron railings on the Sacristy steps and Parish house will be completed soon.

This year we are commemorating the 90th. anniversary of The Memorial Church Of Our Father, and have planned the following program for July 18, 1971. Evensong at 3:30pm. with the Rt. Rev. William C. Crittenden officiating, a Tea to follow in the Parish house.

We cordially invite you to attend.

Faithfully,

The Vestry.

WARDEN'S REPORT

Weekly services were held throughout the year. Captain Phy conducted the services during 10 months and the remaining services were handled by our lay readers. At least once a month the Diocese supplied a priest for communion services.

Captain Phy started a Sunday School for the children during the year.

All the windows in the church were caulked where needed and protective glass installed at two windows at the rear of the church.

In the cemetery additional lots were laid out and are for sale in one section.

I would like to express my appreciation to the members of the Executive Committee and Captain Phy for the work which they have done during the past year.

I would also like to express the appreciation of the church to Bishop Crittenden and the people in the Diocese headquarters at Erie for the assistance they have given Foxburg.

Respectfully submitted,

Foxburg Church, 84 Years Old, Prepares For New Usefulness

FOXBURG CHURCH UNFURLS NEW FLAG—The Memorial Church of Our Father in Foxburg has been undergoing a renewal process which was symbolized on Flag Day when a bright, shiny new flag was raised on the church grounds.

Percy Millett Recalls Church's Glorious Past

By ALFREDA L. IRWIN
News-Herald Staff Writer

The new flag had just been placed on the flagpole that stands between the parish house and the Memorial Church of Our Father on a high hill overlooking Foxburg.

Its bright unweathered colors made a bold contrast against the sky and declared symbolically what has been happening recently in that parish.

Workmen were still busy renewing the entry of the 84-year-old church. Ropes still hung from the belfry, although the pointing had been finished. (Before the reconstruction began, it is said, sky could be seen

Teenage Dance Slated Friday At Sandy Lake

SANDY LAKE — The Sandy Lake Women's Literary Club will sponsor a teenage dance on Friday from 8 to 11 p.m. at the Sandy Lake Borough Building. Don (Barney) Barnett, disc jockey, will be present to assist in the festivities.

Special prizes will be six passes to the Lakeview miniature golf course.

Chaperons will be Mrs. Brod Slater, Mrs. A. J. Procter, Mrs. Homer Vath and Mrs. Fred Slater.

The club would like to be informed at the dance as to the sentiment of the young people on continuing dances for the summer months. Teenagers are asked to be present and voice their opinion on weekly dances, once a month, or whatever they wish to be done in the future.

ed that he did not know the first rector until later when that man returned for a second term.

Mr. Millett pointed out a low board in the sacristy. "There used to be a bench here about 10 inches off the floor. I was in the toddlers' class that met here and I sat on that bench." A fireplace in the corner used to provide heat. The room is completely lined in golden oak that is soon to be restored to its natural beauty.

When asked, Mr. Millett spoke about his trip to Europe when he was 23. He had worked on the railroad and saved his money for what turned out to be a seven-month trip. He expressed regret that he had not taken the time to study the cathedrals then. He had been more interested in castles and people and horse races, he added whimsically.

Mrs. Millett has also been a source of strength in the Foxburg church, heading the educational work of the parish and supporting substantially the mission program. She has prepared the young people for confirmation during the past few years.

As the tour of the church came to an end, Mr. Millett's friendly blue-green eyes lighted up as he spoke of the new relationship of

Local Men in Team Investigate County Archaeological Site

Four local youths are members of archaeological investigation team working on Indian camp sites in the Upper Allegheny drainage as part of Clarion State College's annual summer program in Field Archaeology.

James Borland of Franklin, James McFetridge and Wally Crum of Polk, and Eric Blumensadt of Oil City are among the ten students under the direction of Dr. Gustav A. Konitzky, associate professor of Anthropology and Sociology at Clarion.

Current investigations of the team have revealed the presence of a Middle Woodland Village, occupied around 500 A.D. on the property of Warren Jackson, adjacent to the Emlenton-Parker road.

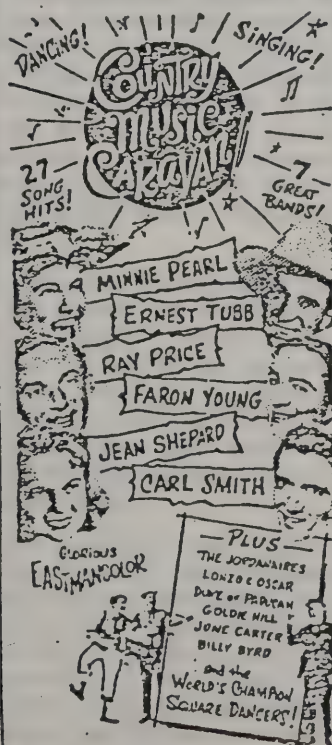

In order to give interested persons an opportunity to observe the work of an archaeological team, the site will be open to visitors on Saturday from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. The site can be reached by route 268 from Emlenton south to the first farm on the left, about one-half mile. A sign there will direct visitors to the excavation near the Allegheny River.

The group's excavation of another site, "Umbrella Rock Shelter" in Venango County has brought to light new information on the distribution of prehistoric hunting camps in this area. That site was also a Middle Woodland Village, occupied around 500 A. D. Small hunting parties of Indians probably were responsible for the projectile points and fragments of pottery left under the overhanging rock of the site.

FARMER BILKED

LANCASTER, Pa. (UPI) — Two men bilked an elderly farmer of $9,500 by putting siding on his barn on the pretense it would lead to advertising revenues, police said Wednesday. The men told the 71-year-old farmer commissions on the use of his property would far exceed the $9,500 they said was "required by the government to bind their contract." The siding job was worth $1,500 to $1,600. The victim's name was withheld.

painting had been finished. (Before the reconstruction began, it is said, sky could be seen through the open slits between the beltry stones.) The main edifice has been sand-blasted and treated with silicon. Its newly-acquired lightness is clean-looking and beautiful. The small rosette carvings can be seen again since the years' accumulation of dirt has been dispersed.

The trees in the adjoining churchyard have been freed of deadwood. Their ancient trunks, in graceful angles, reach high. The rhododendron hedge which skirts the back of the property has been trimmed.

The carriage house at the rear of the church has been repaired, and reroofed and repainted. Five compartments, proper for carriages, but not for motor cars, have been preserved. The building is useful for storage and other equipment. A parking lot has long since replaced the carriage house for parishioner's use.

The original rectory was built in 1884 and was later made a parish house. Another rectory, located farther up the hill, was also acquired. The lower stone part of the parish house, has been sandblasted. The interior is being redecorated and repaired, after which the exterior wood will be painted a soft beige to blend with the stones' light tones.

BRASS PULPIT LIGHT IS GLEAMING AND BEAUTIFUL. — The bowl-like pulpit light in the Foxburg church which has been recently cleaned and polished, hangs on an intricately designed brass crane.

Church of Our Father has taken only six weeks and has been planned to coincide with the arrival of the Rev. L. Paul Woodrum of Bradford this week. Mr. Woodrum will assume the duties of assistant to the Rev. Reginald E. Moore, newly-appointed Vicar of the Foxburg church.

The fine craftsmanship of the brass fixtures within the church have already been revealed by a thorough cleaning. The hand-washing of the stone of the inside wall has yet to be accomplished, as well as the cleaning and refinishing of the wooden ceiling and walls of the sacristy.

The church was built by the Fox Family and is said to be a replica of a church members of that family admired when traveling in Europe. Even the errors of that European church were copied in the Foxburg church, the local legends say.

As the church was visited on Flag Day, the oldest member of the parish, Percy Millett, who is also lay-reader and member of the vestry, recalled his memories of the church, its leaders and the community which it has blessed by its presence. (Mr. Millett almost 85, is the oldest lay-reader of the diocese, as well.)

"I raised the flag on the very first Flag Day in Foxburg after the start of the War of '98," Mr. Millett said. "We had a flagpole 110 feet high. The last ten feet bent under me as I inched my way along, but it held," the hardy old gentleman smiled. "Not long after, it blew down," he added.

Mr. Millett's finger roamed up and down the list of permanent rectorships.

"I remember Aldred A. Clay. I was helping him put on a Gilbert and Sullivan operetta when he was called away."

Mr. Millett is an opera lover and goes each year to Detroit for the Metropolitan performances there. He lived briefly in Detroit once, but otherwise has lived in Foxburg.

Mr. Millett referred to Angelo Ames Benton. Both he and his father, W. L. H. Benton, served as rectors at Foxburg. A marble plaque is placed in the church in memory of A. A. Benton, who, according to Mr. Millett, was a great Latin scholar. He had taught in college before coming to Foxburg.

William K. Reid, who served in 1951-52, had been an attorney before entering the church. Lawrence Cantrel had been a member of the Jesuit Order before becoming an Episcopalian, Mr. Millett said. As a result of his teaching, the Foxburg church adopted more ceremony and ritual in its service, a tradition that is still followed.

"I've known them all," Mr. Millett stated, although he added to the list of the church came to an end. Mr. Millett's friendly blue-green eyes lighted up as he spoke of the new relationship of the Foxburg church with St. John's in Franklin. He has enjoyed reading the service, he said, but will be glad to be relieved of such constant responsibility. Robert J. Pantow, senior warden at the Foxburg church, also is a lay-reader.

While Mr. Millett recalls the glorious days of Foxburg's past when it was a big divisional railroad center and logs floated down the river day and night during high water; when there were three machine shops and a cigar factory, he does not live in the past. He is expecting that many Sunday travelers on Interstate 80 may be glad to leave the Shortway to attend services in the historic Foxburg church.

Two fourteen-year-olds came up then and called Percy by name. (Townpeople, young and old, call Mr. Millett by his first name.)

"Percy, may we go in to see the church?"

"Of course, you may go in to see the church," he replied in a right's-right tone, and turned back to answer the next question.

"Have you been an Episcopalian all your life?" he was asked.

"Not yet," he said with another quick smile.

Church Is Foxburg Landmark

The Memorial Church of Our Father is a landmark in the Foxburg area. Patterned in the style of the early English churches, it has created considerable interest because of its picturesque exterior and beautiful interior.

The church was built in memory of Samuel M. and William Logan Fox and Miss Sarah Lindley Fox by members of their family. The cornerstone was laid July 4, 1881.

In 1882, the church was completed and furnished. Dedication services were held on Nov. 26, with Bishop Whitehead of the Diocese of Pittsburgh officiating. The first rector was the Rev. Thomas A. Stevenson.

In 1883, the Foxburg church was granted a charter. Incorporators were Thomas A. Stevenson, J. V. Cowling, Sr., W. B. Peters, Adam Miller, Samuel M. Robinson, Frank Dale, J. M. Fox and M. R. Morgan.

The rectory, now used as a and dedicated Nov. 26 of that year.

In Pittsburgh Diocese At the time of its dedication, The Church of Our Father was a part of the Diocese of Pittsburgh, as were all Episcopal churches in this area.

Shortly after the Revolutionary War, the Episcopal Church in the United States had been set off into dioceses. In 1787, the entire state was considered one diocese — the Diocese of Pennsylvania.

In 1865, the western part of Pennsylvania was set off as the Diocese of Pittsburgh. Parishes into what was called the Erie Convocation and mission stations were located along the Allegheny River.

In 1910, the northern convocation became the Diocese of Erie of which both St. John's, Franklin, and The Memorial Church of Our Father are a part.

Only Episcopal

The only Protestant Episcopal church ever to stand in Clarion County was, and is, the Memorial Church of Our Father, in Foxburg, erected by the Fox family in 1821 in memory of deceased members of the clan. Its first rector was the Rev. Thomas A. Stevenson. A rectory was built two years later.

The church was assigned to the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Pittsburgh.

Among early rectors of the Memorial Church of Our Father, after the Rev. Mr. Stevenson, were the Revs. Samuel Edson and Raymond A. Angell.

The Evangelical Church became active in Clarion County about the year 1849, and soon had three parishes and (in 1887) church buildings numbering 11. Camp-meeting grounds were established at West Millville and Lickingville.

The Methodist Church (then the Methodist Episcopal Church) appeared early in the area later to become Clarion County, with members meeting at the Young home, on the turnpike two miles east of Clarion, about 1810; another Methodist meeting-place was the home of Henry Myers at "The Loop" on the lower Clarion River.

This region was first assigned to the Mahoning Circuit about 1812 and, in 1825, to the then newly-formed Pittsburgh Conference. In 1832 the area became part of the Meadville District and, in 1833, it was again part of the Allegheny District with Zerah H. Coston as presiding elder.

BRIEF HISTORICAL SKETCH OF THE FOX FAMILY AND PROPERTY

In 1785 the Land Office of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania issued a warrant for a tract of 1,100 acres of land at the confluence of the Allegheny and Clarion Rivers in western Pennsylvania to one Samuel Mickle Fox, scion of an illustrious Philadelphia Quaker family and son of Joseph Mickle Fox, a member of the Colonial Assembly. The deed for this land, signed by Thomas Mifflin, Governor of Pennsylvania, and showing the price to have been 'the sum of five pounds, six shillings, nine pence,' hangs in the Fox Mansion today.

Young Samuel 'with faith in the future of the interior' continued to acquire the 'backlands' of this property until he held, at the time of his death, 18,000 acres in addition to his original tract of land.

In 1820, Samuel's son, Joseph Mickle Fox, married Hannah Emlen of Philadelphia in Meadville, Pennsylvania, and, in time, moved to the Clarion County property of his father where he began the construction of a large stone home. All stone and other materials used in the building of this remarkable house came from the property on which it stood. Completed in 1828, the house was a showplace of the area and has been further enhanced by the growth of its beautiful trees and the addition, through the years, of various impressive stone outbuildings.

Ancient oaks, copper beech and rare specimen trees, brought by the family from different parts of this country and from distant places as far away as Japan, grace the grounds today with a feeling of peace and serenity unusual in our time.

The Fox family, because of its interest in lumbering and forestry, took pride in establishing, near the mansion house, the first complete arboretum in the Commonwealth to contain a specimen of each tree indigenous to the area. One of the interesting documents to be seen on this tour is a log, kept by the family, concerning experimental plantations of different kinds of trees which were made on the property.

Guides, on the day of the tour, will tell guests the delightful story of the band of loggers who were taken ashore from the Allegheny and cared for by the Fox family when their rafts of lumber, headed down the river to Pittsburgh, were destroyed by fire. On their way down the Allegheny the following spring, these same men, as a gesture of appreciation for the hospitality shown them the year before, stopped to deliver the extraordinarily beautiful tiger maple banister which rises to this day from the front hall of the mansion to its third floor.

Since the Fox Mansion and estate have been in the possession of the Fox family from 1785 until 1967, the house and outbuildings have been well-cared for and contain many original furnishings, tools and documents of historical interest.

Outbuildings include a carriage house, spring house, ice house, greenhouse, various barns and a beguiling log-cabin playhouse built for Fox children of an earlier time.

Included in the estate today is the original tract of 1,200 wooded acres, on a peninsula, bounded by the Allegheny and Clarion Rivers.

In the 1870's, as older oil towns in Western Pennsylvania declined, Foxburg became the center of new fields along the Clarion and Allegheny Rivers. In its heyday it was visited by many dignitaries including President Rutherford B. Hayes and Dom Pedro, Emperor of Brazil, and not a few scoundrels including the notorious Ben Hogan and his Floating Palace and Lizzie Toppling, better known as French Kate, 'whose siren wiles lured many male admirers into the land of passionate enchantment.'

Over the years the contributions of the Fox family itself to the betterment of the community have proved more enduring than the oil boom of the 70's. From the days of the second Joseph Mickle Fox [1820] until recent times the family took a lively interest in the welfare of the community, building at different times a school, a church and a library which this town benefits.

Perhaps the most widely-known gift of the family to the community is the oldest golf course in the United States. In June 1884, Joseph Mickle Fox journeyed to England to participate in a number of cricket matches in England, Ireland and Scotland, as a member of the Merion Cricket Club, a team known as 'The Gentlemen of Philadelphia.'

After meeting with stiff competition the team played the championship match in Edinburgh, Scotland. Following the match, young Fox traveled to St. Andrews, Scotland, to see a game called 'Golf.'

At the oldest golf club in the world, the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews, the famous golf pro, Tom Morris, Sr., took an interest in the young American athlete and taught him the game.

So intrigued was young Joseph by the game of golf that he returned to America with golf clubs and gutta percha balls and built three holes and fairways on the cow pastures of the Fox estate in Foxburg. Friends and neighbors were invited to learn the game. Subsequently the course was improved and enlarged to nine holes and the Foxburg Golf Club was organized in 1887.

The small but charming Memorial Church of Our Father in Foxburg was built and given by Mary Rodman Fox in 1882. Built of native stone and ornamented with carvings of area flora, this architectural gem is a replica of a Gothic chapel seen and greatly admired by the Fox family on one of its many trips abroad.

Nearby is a small well kept cemetery where the Fox ancestors are buried. It is surrounded by a wall of native stone, Rhododendron and dogwood trees, quiet and beautiful in the spring.

The Hannah Fox Memorial Library - now called the Foxburg Free Library Association - for which this benefit Tea and Tour is held, is also a lasting tribute to the founders of the town.

FOXBURG CHURCH OF OUR FATHER -WILL CELEBRATE CHORAL EUCHARIST

MEMORIAL CHURCH OF OUR FATHER
Renovation is completed

On November 26, 1882, Bishop Whitehead of Pittsburgh officiated at the Dedication of the Episcopal Memorial Church of Our Father in Foxburg. Two years later, the rectory, now used as the Parish House, was dedicated. Having recently completed a thorough renovation of both the Church and the Parish House it is fitting that this year the Feast of the Dedication be observed with special solemnity.

This year the Feast of the Dedication will be observed with a Choral Eucharist at 8:00 P.M. on Friday, Nov. 26. The Bishop will be represented by his chaplain, the archdeacon of the Diocese of Erie, the Venerable Roy J. Schaffer, who will be assisted by the Rev. Reginald E. Moore, Vicar and Rev. L. Paul Woodrum, his assistant.

The choir will be supplemented by members of the choir of St. John's Episcopal Church of Franklin.

Following the service the Ladies Guild will host a reception in the Parish Hall. All members and friends of the mission are invited to join in this joyous celebration.

Years ago the fathers of the Church built this beautiful architectural landmark in Foxburg. Since then, members have felt free to change it from time to time to meet modern needs. Around the year 1910, lighting was changed and the choir was enlarged. By being true to their heritage, the present members through the renovation program have adjusted their buildings to meet contemporary needs.

This remodeling program began last winter to restore the buildings from further deterioration. The Church Sanctuary recently completed again allowed the Sunday morning worship services to be held in the sanctuary on November 21.

The exterior sandstone of both structures has been sand blasted, pointed and given a silicon coating and now shines several shades lighter, also the original church walls and stiles on the grounds have been rebuilt, inside the new floor and new heating system have been installed, as well as much cleaning, painting and refinishing of the church and parish house are now being completed, pews have been respaced and kneelers have replaced cushions and aisle has a newly installed carpet.

The book of Common Prayer provides propers for the annual remembrance of the Dedication. This Feast of the Dedication, while partly a time to dedicate this recently completed renovation of the Episcopal Church, is primarily a time for members to examine themselves and re-dedicate themselves to the ongoing work of the Lord Christ in the community.

Choral Eucharist Is Held At Church

By ELMIRA ROE

Derrick Correspondent

FOXBURG — The enshrining beauty of the renewed sanctuary gave a lasting remembrance to the joyous choral eucharist on Friday evening commemorating the restoration program of the Foxburg Episcopal Memorial Church of Our Father.

This beauty accented the music provided by combined choirs of the Foxburg church and St. John Church of Franklin, singing under the direction of Wesley M. Vos, choir director and organist at St. John Episcopal Church.

In more recent years, this organ was named by the congregation and by Dr. Lawrence Cantrel, the rector at Foxburg in 1946, as the Harwick A. Lollis Memorial Organ.

THIS FEAST of the Dedication, while partly a time to rededicate the church, the renovation work within the church and parish house and improvement of the church grounds, was primarily a time for the members to examine themselves and state rededication to the continuing work of the Lord in the present day community, according to Rev. Reginald E. Moore, vicar.

An atmosphere of special solemnity surrounded this third appointed service of dedication for the Memorial Church.

In the address given on Friday evening the Archdeacon, Roy J. Shaffer, reviewed the work of the present members and the executive committee with the clergy, Rev. Reginald E. Moore and Rev. L. Paul Woodrum, who have successfully accomplished this mission.

This endeavor of new life and

Rev. Reginald E. Moore, rector of St. John Church and appointed Vicar at Memorial Church in Foxburg, conducted the Communion of the Faithful on Friday evening. Assisting him were Rev. L. Paul Woodrum, deacon, and Venerable Roy J. Schaffer, archdeacon.

The hymn which closed the service was entitled "Glorious Things of Thee Are Spoken."

Looking back to the past, Venerable Roy J. Schaffer, in his address for this Thanksgiving Service, recalled the Fox family.

The history of Foxburg community has many ties with the historical background of the Memorial Church. The town of Foxburg, as well as much of the surrounding land for miles along the Clarion and the Allegheny Rivers, is accredited to the founder, Joseph M. Fox, who laid the church cornerstone on July 4, 1881.

BY THE DEDICATED efforts of these forefathers, physically building this picturesque English-styled structure, this day of dedication, November 26, 1882 became recorded history.

The church was erected by the family in loving memory of Samuel Mickie, William Logan and Miss Sarah Lindley Fox, as an everlasting memorial.

The church's organ dates to the first service of the Foxburg mission conducted by a clergyman in September of 1873 by Rev. John A. Dooris, who officiated for sometime following that date.

This endeavor was continued in 1878 by Rt. Rev. John Barrett Kerfoot, who continued to the Resurrection," adorns the church altar. The painting is by Edwin Howland Blashfield, noted artist and lecturer.

Such altar pieces and paintings by Blashfield have been known to exist in churches at Maryland, New York City, Atlanta, Ga., and Washington, D.C.

Blashfield is a noted mural painter and some of his works are displayed in public court houses and a noted mural hangs in the Library of Congress.

The reception following the Feast of the Dedication service was held in the parish house, hosted by the ladies of the Church Guild.

The origin of this body dates to October 1885, when the Rev. Samuel Edson called a meeting to unite the working body of the church.

The first 59 years of Guild life were served under only three dedicated ladies. This memory of such effort has kept the interest of the present members, even those who were not fortunate enough to have known them.

The first president, Mrs. Samuel Fox, served for 12 years. Miss Hannah Fox followed, 1897 to 1932, and Mrs. M. R. Morgan, 1933 to 1944.

MARBLE TABLETS, lining the walls, include those to Miss Hannah Fox, 1885 to 1933. Mary Rodman Fox, 1822 to 1903, and Joseph M. Fox, 1853 to 1918.

Of noted mention also is one in memory of Rev. Angelo Ames Venton, who served as pastor.

The executive committee's planning made possible the adjustment of the buildings to meet contemporary needs.

of the church grounds, was primarily a time for the members to examine themselves and state rededication to the continuing work of the Lord in the present day community, according to Rev. Reginald E. Moore, vicar.

In the address given on Friday evening the Archdeacon, Roy J. Shaffer, reviewed the work of the present members and the executive committee with the clergy, Rev. Reginald E. Moore and Rev. L. Paul Woodrum, who have successfully accomplished this mission.

This endeavor of new life and awareness they restored will be remembered as "an architectural gem restored to original beauty and loveliness," he said.

He expressed tidings to the church body sent from the chairman of the Department of Mission, "offering sincere congratulations on the Feast of the Dedication.

ST. JOHN Church, Franklin, is one of the first parishes to "adopt" a mission church providing the opportunity for them to work together in mutual benefit until such time the Memorial church will become independent.

BY THE DEDICATED efforts of these forefathers, physically building this picturesque English-styled structure, this day of dedication, November 26, 1882 became recorded history.

This endeavor was continued in 1878 by Rt. Rev. John Barrett Kerfoot, who continued to keep alive this growing church mission.

By the efforts of Mrs. Mary R. Fox, permanent missionary services opened on October 24, 1880 by the Rev. Henry Purden, S.D., and the priest in charge, Thomas Ainslee Stevenson, traveled by rail from Corry once a fortnight.

The following communicants registered when the mission organized:

The work on the church rectory, now used as the parish house for the center of the church's activities, began in June of 1883. The completion of the rectory marked the date November 26 in 1884 as that of the second appointed dedication service.

BEAUTIFUL MEMORIALS and polished brass fixtures enrich the beauty of the sanctuary. The painting, "The Angel of ate enough to have known them.

The first president, Mrs. Samuel Fox, served for 12 years. Miss Hannah Fox followed, 1897 to 1932, and Mrs. M. R. Morgan, 1933 to 1944.

MARBLE TABLETS, lining the walls, include those to Miss Hannah Fox, 1885 to 1933, Mary Rodman Fox, 1822 to 1903, and Joseph M. Fox, 1853 to 1918.

Of noted mention also is one in memory of Rev. Angelo Ames Venton, who served as pastor.

The executive committee's planning made possible the adjustment of the buildings to meet contemporary needs.

Through the renovation program, beginning last winter, and the sandblasting in April, the improvement of the entire property has been accomplished to promote the ongoing work of the church and the organizing of the church people as a working group.

The carriage house bordering the church property that was used for carriages in years gone is useful for storage and equipment.

It has been recently re-roofed, painted and preserved as part of the grounds.

The stone church walls bordering the church yard and the stiles placed in pathways have been rebuilt to restore the quaint exterior appearance as when first built.

Through the restoration program, the aroused renaissance in the church will undoubtedly awaken interest to any visitor at this historical landmark, to be retold by them in time to come.

Though ancient artisans did not know much about the chemical elements in their glass, some of their masterpieces — layered, multicolored, sculptured and mosaic — would be difficult if not impossible to duplicate today.

MEETINGS

Business meeting and Educational program, the first Thursday of each month, one o'clock at the Parish house.

With the approach of the year 1965 we can not only look forward to new plans for the future, with hopes that we may share not unworthily in the good things of the coming years, but we can look back with thanksgiving over the retrospect of eighty years of Guild life. These years have been ones of work and happy companionship in a common cause and have brought the deepening of old as well as the awakening of new interests.

When in October, the year 1885, five church members met at the call of The Reverend Samuel Edson, the rector, they met primarily for the purpose of holding the church people together in a working Guild. The constitution then written necessitated only minor changes until the year 1956 when it was revised. However then as now the two committees, one for the sick and poor, now known as the Social Service Committee, and the Sanctuary Committee were the nucleus of the working plans.

The Guild has done extensive work for Missions both in this country and in the foreign field. From 1885 until 1916 a bequest left in memory of Mrs. Lindley Fox, provided a scholarship at "St. Paul's Boys School" in Tokyo. In 1916 the Guild decided the money would be sent to the "Women's Bible Mission Hospital," in Wu Chang, China. This was sent annually until 1942 when the Communists bombed and completely destroyed the hospital. Since that time the money has been turned over to the church to be paid on the apportionment.

Other mission work included sending barrels of clothing to the Indian reservations, hospitals and missions in the poverty areas and assisting the Red Cross, Salvation Army, and the U. S. O. during the first and second World Wars. The mission work for the past several years has been sent through the Woman's Auxiliary of the Board of Missions.

Mission work in our own area includes money and supplies sent to St. Barnabas House, clothing and supplies to Warren and Polk State Hospitals, books and magazines sent to remote areas. Money has been contributed for college work and institutions for the blind, and has been given to the sick and needy of our own community.

We have, through the Executive Committee (formerly the Vestry), made many small repairs to the 'Church and Parish House. Four times the Church aisle carpet has been renewed. We have carpeted the Sacristy, supplied kneeling hassocks and choir books, and largely met the expense of choir vestments. We have always taken full responsibility for the Sanctuary needs, such as furnishing all linens, Communion bread, wine and candles, and the Altar prepared for all services.

There has always been a great interest in the United Thank Offering Program, with a large percentage of our women participating.

The Christian and Social Educational programs have nourished both our Spiritual and intellectual needs.

The Parish was a part of the Pittsburgh Diocese until 1910, when transferred to the newly organized Erie Diocese. The women have always taken an active interest in all Diocesan meetings and have gained valuable informative experiences from them.

With bequests left to us by the Fox family, Mrs. M. R. Morgan and Miss Carrie Hager, we are able to carry on our work. Other funds are provided by bake sales, dinners, bazaars, socials, card parties, rummage sales, style shows, etc.

Such in brief has been the voluntary work done by the women of the Church of Our Father. But it is not chiefly the statistical record by which this work should be remembered. That would defeat the purpose for which the Guild was originated. It has been done with a sense of love; it has benefited both those who have reaped and those who have sown. 'There has been a vital sense of fellowship in our intercourse, and church ties have been strengthened and deepened.

Our work has been very simple, and we have done no great things. There have been times when difficult and perplexing questions have arisen, and when officers have needed to carry the work in their hearts and minds in order to steer it aright. Beyond that, probably no one can look back upon the eighty years but upon those of pleasure and the work has reaped the rewards of success.

Has it been worthwhile? Has our Parish been bettered by our work? Has our feeling of fellowship been made strong, and above all, have we done these duties in order to hasten the Kingdom?

Will our Parish work be better in the future than in the past? Although we may not be able at present, through changed conditions, to have more funds or increased membership, we can gain inspiration through the comparatively large results of eighty years of faithful work. Now the time has come to close our book of memories, yes, past things were good, but the future can be better.

Direct us, O Lord, in all our doings with thy most gracious favor, and further us with thy continual help; that in all our works begun, continued and ended in thee, we may glorify thy holy name, and finally, by thy mercy, obtain everlasting life through Jesus Christ, Our Lord.—Amen.

St. Peters Congregation

St. Peters Church was organized by the Rev. Henry Koch, on the first day of March 1834. On the 25th day of the same month the property, now occupied by the Reformed and Lutheran Churches, was deeded by Richard Peters, Esq., of Philadelphia, to the joint board of trustees of the two congregations. According to the custom of the times, the Reformed congregation was known as the German Presbyterian Church, so the deed was made to the Presbyterian and Luthern Churches. Hence the record in the deed is to John Snyder and Daniel Eschbaugh, Jr., Presbyterian trustees, and Samuel Shirey and Henry Witling, Luthern. The corner-stone of the first church building was layed in May, 1837. It was built jointly by the Reforms and Luthern congregation at a cost of $1003. The pastorate of Rev. Henry Koch closed with his death, which occurred 1845. His successor was Rev. Henry Hoffman, who served the congregation from 1846 to 1855. During the pastorate of Rev. Hoffman the Reformed congregation disposed of their interest in the union church building and erected a new one for their exclusive use. This, the second church building was reared in 1854. It was a stone structure costing $1212. Rev. L. D. Leberman succeeded Rev. Hoffman, and served the congregation from 1856 to 1858. The Rev. J. S. Shade succeeded to the pastorate. He served the congregation from 1858 to 1865 and was followed by the Rev. D. O. Shumaker, who served from 1866 to 1873. He was then succeeded by the Rev. D. W. Wolff whose pastorate closed with his death in the year 1876. His successor was the Rev. W. C. B. Shulenberg whose time of service lasted from 1876 to 1883. During this pastorate the present large and beautiful church building, which now occupies the ground was built. The corner-stone was laid on the 4th day July, 1876, and the church was dedicated in November, 1877. The building, the finest in the neighborhood, is a brick structure trimmed stone with tower 167 feet high. The cost of the building was $20,000. In March, 1885 Rev. Samuel Z. Beam became the pastor. His pastorate lasted until November 4th, 1888. The congregation was the out a regular pastor for about two years. Then they issued a call to the Rev. Simon S. Miller. He took charge of the work on the first day of October, 1890. Brother Miller succeeded, however, in establishing confidence and raised about $2,500 with which the interior of the church was remodeled and frescoed, and the remaining debt cancelled. His pastorate closed on the 30th day of April, 1895.

The present minister is the Rev. U. O. H. Kerschner, who began his pastorate January 8, 1896. The congregation is now free of debt and has a membership of 332, and a Sunday School numbering 276; a Christian Endeavor Society numbering about 90, and a Brotherhood of Andrew and Phillip numbering 21; a Junior Endeavor numbering about 40, also a junior and senior class in Catechistics numbering 56.

The congregation owns a parsonage which is in a rather delapidated condition. They are raising money to erect a new one.

December 18, 1974

Dear Member,

The United Church of Christ at St. Petersburg will officially discontinue Services on December 29, 1974.

All members who wish to have their letters transferred after this date may do so by writing to Rev. Paul Westcott at the following address:

Penn West Conference
United Church of Christ
Greensburg, Pa. 15601

Penn West Conference will perform this service for a period of two years following the official closing of the Church.

All items of the church will be sold with members given preference. The building will be dismantled by contractor's bid.

Hopefully a memorial marking the site of St. Peter's will be made of the Church bell.

It is with deep regret, on our part, that this action had to be taken.

Respectfully yours,

St. Petersburg U.C.C.
Consistory

The first part of the report discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that this is essential for the company's financial health and for providing reliable information to stakeholders. The report then outlines the various methods used to collect and analyze data, including interviews with key personnel and a thorough review of existing documents. The findings of the study are presented in a clear and concise manner, highlighting the areas where improvements can be made. Finally, the report concludes with a series of recommendations designed to address the identified issues and to ensure that the company's operations are as efficient and effective as possible.

In addition to the recommendations, the report also includes a detailed analysis of the company's current financial position. This analysis takes into account all relevant factors, including revenue, expenses, and assets. The results of this analysis are presented in a series of charts and graphs, which make it easy to see the company's overall financial performance. The report also discusses the potential risks that the company may face in the future, and provides suggestions for how to mitigate these risks. Overall, the report provides a comprehensive overview of the company's current state and offers a clear path forward for the future.

The report also includes a section on the company's human resources. This section discusses the current state of the company's workforce, including the number of employees, their skills, and their experience. It also identifies the areas where the company may need to hire new employees or provide additional training. The report concludes with a series of recommendations for how to improve the company's human resources management. These recommendations include implementing a more structured hiring process, providing ongoing training and development opportunities, and creating a more supportive work environment. Rev. D. W. Wolff took charge of the St. Petersburg congregation Nov. 1st 1873. Found the congregation much distracted on account of the division of the old St. Petersburg charge.

In securing the church record nine or ten month after his settlement in the congregation found no record made during the pastorate of the former minister, viz D. O. Shomaker. Under his pastorate the charge was divided and retained what is now known as the Beaver charge which he served one year after ceasing to preach in St. Petersburg.

Rev. D. W. Wolff confirmed a class of sixteen May 21st 1874, viz, Emma Matilda Jones, Hannah Sophia Huber, Frances Eleta Master, Emma Louisa Ashbuch, Sarah Dittman, Cath Dittman, Sarah Malinda Neely, Mary M. Fink, Agnes Vensel, Mary Jackson, Mary E. Luke, Jno. H. Huber, Charles Huber, Jno. Calvin Jones, Ben Oliver Conver. George Nunnemaker.

And on March 18th 1875 the following persons were confirmed: Araminta E. Nevel, Mary C. Vensel, Mary Elmira Vensel, Randolph Vensel, George M. Vensel, Sol H. Shoup, Huldah Cremer, Sarah A. Edinger and Samuel Vensel.

Rev. W. C. B. Shulenberger commenced his labors in the St. Petersburg Charge the 1st of September 1876.

Though there are many things to discourage, owing to the divided condition of the St. Petersburg Congregation, yet I feel it to be my duty to undertake the work, and with God's assistance bring order out of confusion. The difference existing among members grounds itself in the difference of language, the German having been done away with and the Service held only in the English.

I was received by a large majority of the members as though sent of God, and even the disaffected were not disposed to interfere with my usefulness. There are many encouraging features I might mention but will not be sanguine success to start with, will wait and let our labors speak for themselves. With God's assistance, and in his name, we undertake the work and look forward to a pleasant and profitable pastorate in the St. Petersburg Charge.

Communion Oct. 12, 1876

After canvassing the interest pretty thoroughly and becoming acquainted with the families belonging to the charge, I concluded to hold my first communion in this congregation on the 12th of Oct. Prior to this time and at the preparatory service I baptized six children. This is a very encouraging feature. When the parents are willing to bring their children, there is faith and love. And where these exist, the gates of hell shall not prevail.

The following is a partial list of my first Communion held October 12, 1876:

Communion Jan. 28, 1877

Our second Communion was held Jan. 28, 1877. This was much larger than our first, but still the list of communicants is only partially presented. Quite a number neglect handing in their names. Must be more careful in the future in getting the names of all who commune. It is very important to have them regularly recorded.

Commenced service on Wednesday evening before. Had Confirmation on Friday evening. The following were confirmed: Mr. C. H. Vensel, Mr. Saml. Lobaugh, Mrs. Carissa Ritz, Mrs. Esther Shoup, Miss Lizzie Kifer and Miss Susan Vensel.

The following were received on certificate: Dr. S. B. Dorn and Sarah his wife from the Baptist Church, Spartansburgh, Pa.; Dr. I G. Wireback and Maggie his wife from the Reformed Church, Scott Dale, Pa.; Mr. A. J. Edinger and Annie his wife from the Presbyterian Church, Clarion, Pa. and Proff. J. P. The Church was crowded and a very deep interest manifested on the part of all in the service of the occasion. If we can learn of the presence of Christ in his Church from the interest manifested on the part of the cong., then truly He was present on this occasion. And we will be very much disappointed if there are not a number with us next time who were but lookers on at this time. I feel confident vows were sworn which we hope will be carried into effect if we all live to see another Communion. The Church was again crowded Sunday night. Here ended a very interesting and profitable communion season.

Communion, December 23rd 1877

The Communion was held the Sunday before Christmas that our hearts and minds might be prepared to observe the Festival. What joy fills the heart as we look from this exaltation to the plain below and the newborn babe in the manger.

We hope to succeed in bring(ing) all to see the importance of being regular at the table of the Lord. We cannot conceive of a valid excuse. Idleness is not even a justifiable excuse. Then it is, we need grace, and all such should ask that the Com. be brought to them.

The number of communicants was quite small. Many of our numbers keep themselves away purposely, but on this occasion some were prevented by the heavy rains. It is hoped that in the providence of God many of the careless ones may be led to repent of their carelessness and folly and return to a discharge of their duties.

Sunday Dec. 27th 1885. The Holy Communion was celebrated and although there was a tolerably good turn out there was only one hundred and one Communicants. Sunday April 1st 1888. The Easter Communion was held today and one hundred and six of our members communed. Several communed for the first time during this pastorate. A number of members of other churches also communed. It is sadly to be regretted that the great majority of our members stay away from the table of the Lord. I mean that the majority are never there at any one time. We have about 270 members, about 175 of whom are communicants, and only a little more than 100 commune at one time. May the good Lord help me to lead them into better ways.

Saturday May 19th 1888. The preparatory services were held at 2 p. m. One person was admitted on certificate, fourteen by confirmation, one of whom was baptized. Two infants were baptized. This was the largest congregation that has attended preparatory services during this pastorate.

Samuel Z. Beam, Pastor

Sunday May 20th 1888. The Holy Communion was held today, this being Whitsunday or Pentecost. A funeral was held at 9:30, and at the close of this service the Communion service began. This was the largest Communion service ever held in this church since the present pastorate began, which is an encouraging sign. Members who stood aloof are coming forward and showing some interest in the work of the Church. May the good Lord help us to grow in truth and righteousness and to become a power for good in the community. 142 communed.

Saml. Z. Beam, Pastor

Saturday Sept. 22, 1888. The Preparatory Service was held. There was a tolerably good turn out. Six children were baptized.

S. Z. Beam, Pastor

Sunday Sept. 23rd 1888. The Holy Communion was administered. Of our members about 123 communed. Again some communed who have been standing aloof. There were no additions. One child was baptized.

Samuel Z. Beam, Pastor

Saturday Nov. 10th 1888. The Pastor, Rev. Samuel Z. Beam D. D., shipped his goods today. His pastorate closes on Wednesday, Nov. 14th 1888.

1. The first part of the paper discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the integrity of the financial system and for the ability to detect and prevent fraud. The author notes that many businesses fail to implement adequate controls, which can lead to significant losses and legal consequences.

2. The second part of the paper examines the various methods used to collect and analyze data. It compares different statistical techniques and discusses their strengths and weaknesses. The author argues that a combination of methods is often necessary to obtain a comprehensive understanding of the data. It also touches upon the challenges of data collection, such as sampling bias and incomplete data.

3. The third part of the paper focuses on the application of these methods to real-world problems. It provides several examples of how data analysis has been used to identify trends, predict future outcomes, and optimize business operations. The author highlights the importance of interpreting the results correctly and the need for ongoing monitoring and evaluation.

4. The fourth part of the paper discusses the ethical considerations surrounding data collection and analysis. It addresses issues such as privacy, consent, and the potential for misuse of data. The author stresses that researchers must adhere to strict ethical guidelines to ensure the trust and confidence of the public.

5. The fifth part of the paper concludes by summarizing the key findings and offering recommendations for future research. It suggests that further studies should be conducted to explore the effectiveness of different data collection methods and to develop new techniques for analyzing complex data sets. The author also encourages the use of data analysis in a responsible and ethical manner.

1. The first part of the paper discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the integrity of the financial system and for the ability to detect and prevent fraud. The author notes that many businesses fail to implement adequate controls, which can lead to significant losses and legal consequences.

2. The second part of the paper examines the various methods used to collect and analyze data. It compares different statistical techniques and discusses their strengths and weaknesses. The author argues that a combination of methods is often necessary to obtain a comprehensive understanding of the data. It also touches upon the challenges of data collection, such as sampling bias and incomplete data.

3. The third part of the paper focuses on the application of these methods to real-world problems. It provides several examples of how data analysis has been used to identify trends, predict future outcomes, and optimize business operations. The author highlights the importance of interpreting the results correctly and the need for ongoing monitoring and evaluation.

4. The fourth part of the paper discusses the ethical considerations surrounding data collection and analysis. It addresses issues such as privacy, consent, and the potential for misuse of data. The author stresses that researchers must adhere to strict ethical guidelines to ensure the trust and confidence of the public.

5. The fifth part of the paper concludes by summarizing the key findings and offering recommendations for future research. 1. The first part of the paper discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the integrity of the financial system and for the ability to detect and prevent fraud. The author argues that without reliable records, the system is vulnerable to manipulation and abuse.

2. The second part of the paper examines the various methods used to collect and analyze data. It compares different techniques, such as manual data entry versus automated systems, and discusses the advantages and disadvantages of each. The author concludes that while automated systems offer greater efficiency and accuracy, they also require careful oversight to ensure that the data is being collected and analyzed correctly.

3. The third part of the paper focuses on the role of the auditor in the financial system. It describes the various responsibilities of the auditor, including the review of records, the testing of controls, and the preparation of audit reports. The author stresses that the auditor must maintain a high level of independence and objectivity in order to provide a fair and unbiased assessment of the system's performance.

4. The fourth part of the paper discusses the importance of communication in the financial system. It argues that effective communication is essential for the coordination of activities and for the resolution of problems. The author suggests that the establishment of clear lines of communication and the use of standardized reporting formats can help to improve the overall efficiency and effectiveness of the system.

5. The fifth part of the paper concludes by summarizing the key findings of the study. It reiterates the importance of accurate record-keeping, effective data collection and analysis, the role of the auditor, and the importance of communication. The author hopes that these findings will be useful to those responsible for the management and oversight of the financial system.

THE EFFECT OF VITAMIN DEFICIENCY ON THE GROWTH OF THE RAT
J. H. HOLLAND, JR., and J. H. HOLLAND, JR.
The effect of vitamin deficiency on the growth of the rat has been studied by Holland and his associates. The results show that a deficiency of vitamin A leads to a marked retardation of growth. This is accompanied by a decrease in the weight of the body and a corresponding decrease in the weight of the internal organs. The deficiency also leads to a marked increase in the mortality rate. The authors conclude that a deficiency of vitamin A is a serious condition which can lead to a marked retardation of growth and a corresponding decrease in the weight of the body and the internal organs. The deficiency also leads to a marked increase in the mortality rate. The authors conclude that a deficiency of vitamin A is a serious condition which can lead to a marked retardation of growth and a corresponding decrease in the weight of the body and the internal organs.

Does Jesus Live within you,

Do you take him in your walk

Do others know you love him

SKETCH OF THE ORGANIZATION AND EARLY HISTORY OF THE SHILOH CHURCH
IN THE PRESBYTERY OF CLARION.

By REVEREND J. S. ELDER

On June 3, 1841, the below named persons were organized into a Presbyterian Church. The first church located on what now is the Avery Farm at Helen Furnace. It was called Greenwood. Rev. John Cove was moderator and accepted as members the following: James Johnston, Thomas Rutherford, Margaret Rutherford, Agnes Johnston, Sarah Bell, Sarah Whitehill, Jennett Porter, John Reed, Elizabeth Reed, Janett Simpson, Mary Rerr, Jane Anderson, Ellen Fletcher, Jane Gullings, Peter B. Simpson, Jane Adams, and Elizabeth Reed. He also ordained as Elders: James Johnston and John Reed. The congregation included Scotch Hill and Reed Settlement now Miola.

On April 26, 1859, those members of Greenwood Church, living in the southern part of the congregation asked and obtained permission of Presbytery of Clarion to build a branch church in the vicinity of Reed Schoolhouse. In the summer of 1860, a building was partially erected on land owned by Samuel Wilson, Esq. near Reed Schoolhouse, where Paul Mahle, Esq. once lived, now Walter Love. A plank frame was put up and roofed. Nothing further was ever done toward the completion of the building. Never the less, loose boards were laid down for a floor, and services were occasionally held here in the summer time, and the church was generally known as Reed's Church.

On the 28th of February, 1874, those interested in this enterprise met in McCray's Schoolhouse to consider whether they should go on and finish the house or remove it to a more central place and there complete it. After discussion and the appointment of a committee to wait upon Mr. Wilson and see if he would permit the removal of the house from his ground, they adjourned to the 7th of March, 1874. At that time, having Mr. Wilson consent to take the building from his land, they decided to remove it about 1 mile south to the corner of William Reed's land. At this meeting, of March 7th, subscription papers were started, a board of Trustees was elected, McLaine, as was chosen, and William Treasurer.

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem of the origin of life. It is shown that the problem is one of the most important and interesting in the history of science. The author discusses the various theories of the origin of life, and shows that the most probable one is the theory of spontaneous generation. The author also discusses the problem of the origin of the first living organisms, and shows that the most probable one is the theory of abiogenesis.

THE ORIGIN OF LIFE

The problem of the origin of life is one of the most important and interesting in the history of science. It is a problem that has fascinated mankind from the earliest times. The various theories of the origin of life, from the theory of spontaneous generation to the theory of abiogenesis, have all been based on the assumption that life is a natural phenomenon that can arise from non-living matter. The author of this paper discusses the various theories of the origin of life, and shows that the most probable one is the theory of spontaneous generation.

The theory of spontaneous generation is the theory that life can arise from non-living matter. It is the theory that has been most widely accepted by the general public. was elected, consisting of Samuel Reed, Samuel B. McLaine, and John N. Reed. Also a building committee was chosen, consisting of J. DeVilder, William S. Reed, and William L. Reed. William S. Reed was elected Treasurer.

At a meeting in McCray's Schoolhouse on March 21, 1874, the Trustees were elected to meet William Reed, Surveyor, to measure off a lot, 5 X 3 rods, on which to build a church. The size of the house was also agreed upon -- 30 X 38 feet and 12 feet high to the ceiling. At a subsequent meeting -- April 4, 1874 -- the Trustees reported the ground measured off, as above indicated, and leased by William Reed, Surveyor, to Samuel Reed, Samuel B. McLaine, and J. N. Reed and their successors in office for the use of the Presbyterian Church, afterwards named Shiloh, as long as it is used for a Presbyterian Church. At the same time the prices for the different kinds of work, per day were fixed. Also it was agreed to meet one day each week for work until the roof shall be finished. It was arranged likewise, to work each day when it was unsuitable for work on the farm. It proved to be a very backward spring, and so the work on the church progressed quite rapidly the first few weeks. Work on the foundation was commenced as early as the season would permit. The old building was torn down and all the material fit for use was put into the new house. The work was all done by those interested in the church -- some hauling, others doing the mason work, and still others the carpenter work, or plastering, or painting, there was scarcely any outlay of money for anything, except nails, glass, paints, and a little for plastering; and there were donations in each of these materials. The whole outlay of cash did not exceed $30.00. The work was all completed early in December, 1874, except the plastering and painting, which were not entirely finished till September, 1876, when the last coat of paint was put on. A very neat and comfortable church was built at a cost of $1,305.51.

Some difficulty was experienced in settling on a name for the new church. At first it was proposed to call it "Enterprise", and the application to Presbytery for an organization was made under that name. But that did not give very general satisfaction. — They then talked of "Highland". Finally, on the day of organization, they decided to name it "Shiloh".

The organization was effected on February 25, 1875, with 20 members, by the Rev. Ross Stevenson and Elder Daniel Delo: Rev. J. S. Elder, another member of the committee, not being able to be present. The members of the organization were all received on certificate from the Church of Greenwood. Their names are as follows: William Reed, Surveyor, Nancy Reed, William S. Reed, Elizabeth Reed, Margaret McLaine, Jane Girts, S. B. McLaine, Caroline McLaine, Columbus Reed, Samuel Reed, Adaline Reed, Elizabeth Reed, Caroline Reed, Matilda E. McLaine, Hannah McNaughton, Rebecca Reed, Mary Lyon, Mary Reed, Alexander McCray, and Elizabeth McCray. Columbus Reed and Samuel B. McLaine were elected ruling elders. Columbus Reed was installed, having served as ruling elder in Greenwood, and Samuel B. McLaine was ordained and installed. On November 18, 1876, William L. Reed was elected ruling elder, and on the same day was ordained and installed by The Rev. O. A. Elliott.

After the organization, Presbytery sent a few supplies to this church. Rev. J. S. Elder was appointed to preach one Sabbath in April, 1875, and to administer the Lords' Supper both in July and in December of that year. At the December Communion Protracted Services were held. He also supplied in February and in May, 1876. The Rev. O. A. Elliott preached in the fall of 1876, and through November and December of that year a most precious season of grace was enjoyed, when 43 were received into the church. Rev. Mr. Elliott continued to preach occasionally until the middle of 1877. During the Spring following, Rev. F. P. Britt and Rev. W. McMichael each preached a few times. In April, 1878, the church obtained leave to employ Rev. Britt for six months. On Sept. 25, 1878, a call was presented for the one-fourth of Mr. Britt's time, which he accepted. He was installed on October 4th following. Mr. Elder preached the sermon, presided, and delivered the charge to the pastor, and Mr. O. A. Elliott the charge to the people. This relation continued very happily and pro-

In the May following, as arrangements were being made to call Mr. Hickling to the Tionesta field, it was hoped Shiloh could be grouped with the churches of that field. But that was found to be impracticable. Mr. McMichael preached an occasional sermon during the year, April 27, 1882, J. S. Elder to supply six months. In April, 1883, the Rev. J. S. Elder was again appointed to supply Shiloh at "discretion" for a year, meaning by that, that he should give them all the preaching that he would be able to do. This form of appointment was repeated at each April meeting for several years, and under it, services are given to this date -- March, 1887. Meanwhile, L. W. Barr was appointed to hold protracted services of a weeks length in November, 1884. Quite an interest was awakened, and Mr. Barr will long be remembered with affection by this people. At First, Mr. Elder preached occasionally, but after sometime preached a sermon a month, at least, frequently twice a month, besides Communion and special services. Mr. Elder continued to supply this pulpit in this way until Nov. 11, 1888, when he was laid aside from active work by sickness, and was not able to preach any for about four months, and when he did begin preaching, he did not feel able to assume work here. His last sermon as stated supply preached here was on Nov. 4, 1888.

HOW SHILOH CHURCH WAS BUILT

On August 26, 1905, it was decided to consider re-location of the church and after debate it was agreed to accept the plot of ground,  $\frac{1}{2}$  acre in size, offered by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mahle, where the present church stands. A building committee consisting of W. C. Ferver, F. P. McLaine, E. H. DeVilder, J. P. Reed, and Samuel McClain was elected, with E. H. DeVilder to act as secretary. The estimate for the new church, possibly of brick veneer, was placed at \$3000 to \$3500 and that bids be received until October 31, 1908, with August 1, 1909 set as the date of completion. After rejecting several bids, which were too high, Mr. E. S. Sloan of Shippenville, Pa., was asked to draw plans and specifications for a church not to exceed \$400 this plan being for a concrete block building. Work was begun as soon as possible and in September 1908, the last sermon was preached in the old church.

On July 3, 1909 the cornerstone of the new church, containing among other things a list of the church members, a list of all church elders to date, some money, a copy of both Clarion papers, a copy of the Pittsburgh Post, and Mrs. Samuel McClain's German Bible, was laid with appropriate ceremonies.

In August, 1909 the old church was announced for sale and was sold on September 7, 1909 for $51.00 to a Mr. Frank Wortman. During this period of construction, services were held in the Grange Hall. The final cost of the new building was $4400 with an additional cost of $388 for seats. The pulpit from the old church was used and is still in use. The beautiful and impressive stained glass windows were originally from the old Lutheran Church of Shippenville, Pa., whose cornerstone was laid in 1842 and was dedicated in 1844. The windows were then discarded when the present Lutheran Church was built and dedicated in 1903. The then 61 year old windows were then stored in a chicken coop until our purchase of them in 1906.

Many handicaps were met and overcome during construction and completion of the church, not the least of these being the raising of sufficient funds for finishing details of painting and graining the wood which was finally done by Bubb and Leid's. The concrete blocks used in the construction of the church are all hand made, having been made at the church location. The stone for the blocks were hauled from the property of Samuel Mahle by Samuel McLaine and Archie Reed. The forms that were then laid in the shade. They were then sprinkled a couple times a day for 21 days with water pumped by windmill from the spring located across from the now Williard Reed property. The slate for the roof was hauled by E. H. DeVilder from a location found by Mr. Clyde Jeannerat, Clarion, Pa. It was due to a great deal of effort on the part of the building committee, the local workmen, and Mrs. S. B. McLaine that the undertaking was finally completed.

"RED LETTER" DAY

Sabbath, June 26th, 1910

This sabbath was truly a "red letter" day in the history of the Shiloh Presbyterian Church, Presbytery of Clarion, Pennsylvania. It was the consummation of long-cherished hopes. It had been realized by the people that the building in which they had worshipped for a number of years, though associated with so many precious memories, had served its day and that a new and more modern structure was demanded for the present and for coming generations. The matter of building being settled, a new site was also decided upon. Subscriptions in sufficient numbers being secured to warrant a forward movement on the matter of erecting the building.

Early in the Spring of 1909, the contract was let to Mr. E. S. Sloan of Shippenville, Pa., and soon as possible work on the building was begun and sometime in October the structure was finished. Owing to negotiations with the Board of Church Erection, with reference to some financial aid, the time of dedication could not be arranged for until the above mentioned date. With the amount of subscriptions and the grant from the Board on the credit side, there still remained a deficit of $1,102.57 to be raised before the house could be set apart for the worship of Almighty God free of all debt. It did almost seem that the load was heavy to be lifted. But it is an old saying that, "Where there is a will, there is a way", and the people found the way to their pocket books and under the superb leadership of Rev. J. V. Bell of DuBois, in just about one hour the pledges made and a basket offering footed up $1,200.03 and "Praise God from whom all Blessings flow", was soon sung with a will from the heart.

The dedication sermon was preached by Rev. J. V. Bell and the prayer of dedication was offered by Rev. W. F. Fleming of Clarion. Other brethren taking part in the services of that day and the week preceding were as follows: Professor Rice of Forman College of LaHar, India, Rev. F. A. Kerns of Corsica,

It was indeed a good day and to God be all the praise for his so blessing the people and inclining them to build such a neat, tasty, and comfortable house for his worship.

By many it is so hoped it can be truly said, "I was born into the Kingdom of God and dedicated myself to him in the new Shiloh Presbyterian Church".

REPORTS OF IMPROVEMENTS

To report of things that have been done is like telling of dreams come true, or uttering a thankful prayer for God's great goodness.

For many years, almost ever since the church has been built, have teachers longed for class rooms where they could better teach the word of God, and janitors have longed for a furnace that would make the church comfortable without firing for days in advance and all the people shivered looking at walls covered with ice and frost and listening to the echo of the speaker's voice so that many of the words were lost. When Rev. Logan came to us in February, 1929, and after building himself a house, since none was provided for him, he led the people in the longed-for changes in the church working tirelessly with us for 25 years to accomplish these improvements.

In the winter of 1932, the men and boys came from all over the community to dig out the basement with O. P. Reed and Less Reed acting as senior advisers. All labor and equipment was furnished without cost and much of the material was donated. While the men and boys dug and shoveled, the ladies gathered at Logan's house and prepared a sumptuous meal for them each day they worked. The work was difficult and slow, but next winter, 1933, the furnace was moved to the other end of the church, a new chimney was built, and the heating problem largely solved. In 1936, a new furnace was bought which cost $247.00, and was converted to gas in 1950, and replaced with the present very good furnace installed in 1953 for $500.00. The basement was finished with the kitchen and the two class rooms in 1936.

In the spring of 1937, the church was redecorated by S. M. Cotherman and Son at a cost of $290.00. The new carpet was bought in May, 1936. This did not wear well, so another carpet fund was started. The floor was refinished and the present carpet bought in early winter of 1948 for $438.00. A few weeks later in January, 1949, a door fell and we discovered that the main timbers in the tower were completely deteriorated. So, with the help of Ralph Maxwell, Clarence Maxwell, and Frank DeWilder, the needed timber replacements were made in the tower and floor. From then on we went ahead with zest to raise money for the long-hoped for class rooms and insulation. One morning in 1950, the community was shocked to learn that all the windows next to the woods were broken that night. We hoped to have them repaired immediately, but a short time later when we found the vestibule windows broken also, we thought it wise to wait. So they were not repaired until the following summer. The cost was $350.00. The work of remodeling was started in 1951 under the leadership and plans of Ralph Maxwell, and was completed at a cost of $6,494.00 with $190.00 of donated lumber and material, making the recorded cost of $6,584.00. With no record of the many hours of volunteer labor, which it has been estimated that over the time it equaled the cash expenditure. Five new class rooms were added, and all the outside walls and ceilings were insulated and all decorated.

We recorded with appreciations the gifts of furnishings which mean so much. (1) Pulpit Lamp, given in memory of Mrs. Matilda Hill by her children in 1942. (2) Piano Lamp, a Christmas gift to the church by Walter Mahle while serving overseas in 1946. (3) The choir chairs and curtains, a gift from the Young People Department. (4) The Picture Screen, a gift by Margaret Reed Mong, in memory of her mother, Mrs. Lydia Reed. (5) The following given in memory of Lura and Cornelia Reed by those who cared for them in their last illnesses -- table silver, railing on front and basement steps, picture of the Last Supper, clock and chairs. We gratefully acknowledge the gifts of money made by those outside of the congregation for the repair work. In the spring of 1954, a lease for an additional  $\frac{1}{2}$  acre was given to the church by the Mahle Family. The Pulpit Bible was rebound as a gift by Laura Maxwell. And two Revised Standard Copies of the Bible were given to the church.

While making these improvements on the church building, we did not forget the greater work of the church. The church membership increased from 46 in 1929, when Rev. Logan came, to 126. And our benevolence gifts for work beyond our church, increased from $75.00 to $568.00 for the year of 1953.

INTRODUCTION

This record of early births and baptisms of the Trinity Evangelical and Reformed Church of Alcola, Clarion County, Pennsylvania seems to be the only early church records available. Others are reported lost when one of the church buildings burned. To descendants of persons mentioned in the records the information is priceless.

We are indebted to Cornelius E. Koppenheffer for the translation of this record from the German and the presentation of this copy to the Clarion County Historical Society.

The Addenda has been added with the thought that our genealogical knowledge of the persons listed might be of value to others.

Introduction

The purpose of this study is to investigate the effects of various factors on the growth of plants. The study was conducted over a period of six months, during which time the plants were grown under different conditions. The results of the study are presented in the following sections.

The first section discusses the methods used in the study, including the selection of plants, the design of the experiment, and the data collection process. The second section presents the results of the study, showing the growth of the plants under different conditions. The third section discusses the implications of the results, and the fourth section concludes the study.

The study was conducted in a greenhouse, where the plants were grown in pots. The plants were watered regularly, and the temperature and humidity were controlled. The results of the study show that the growth of the plants was affected by the different conditions. The plants grown in the most favorable conditions showed the highest growth, while the plants grown in the least favorable conditions showed the lowest growth.

The implications of the results are that the growth of plants can be controlled by manipulating the environment. This has important implications for agriculture, where the growth of crops can be optimized by controlling the growing conditions. The study also has implications for the study of plant physiology, as it provides information about the factors that affect plant growth.

ZION EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH SHANNONDALE, RED BANK TOWNSHIP, CLARION COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA.

The founding of this church was largely due to the faith and loyalty of a Lutheran mother, Mrs. Katharine Keck, who came from the Brush Creek settlement of Westmoreland County to this vicinity in 1818. She had five sons, David, George, Joseph, Philip, and Conrad.

All their earthly possessions were brought to Clarion County on the back of one horse, although it is said that the boys managed to drive four pigs through the woods to their new home. A log cabin was erected, and here the boys grew up to manhood. Conrad was only eleven years of age at the time of the settlement; and walked all the way back to Brush Creek in his bare feet in order to attend catechetical instruction under Pastor John M. Steck. Naturally Pastor Steck was deeply interested in a lad of such parts, and visited the family several times in their new homes during the years 1820 to 1828. He effected the provisional organization of a congregation here in 1820, and held services in a log school house, located about two miles from Shannondale on the Michael Dinger farm. Here the congregation probably expected to make their permanent home, since a burial ground was connected with the school house and several interments made.

About eight years later, however, the people decided to locate their church in Shannondale; and a plot of ground, containing between three and four acres, was secured from Timothy Pickering and Nicholas Fish at a cost of eight dollars. The deed was dated, December 18, 1828, and the ground conveyed to "John Yeeny and Jacob Hynes, in trust for the Presbyterian and Lutheran congregations of Red Bank Township, in the County of Armstrong, Pennsylvania".

At that time Armstrong County extended northward as far as the Clarion River, and Red Bank Township included the present Red Bank, Porter, Monroe, Limestone, Clarion, and Mill Creek Townships of Clarion County, and the Red Bank, Mahoning and (part) Madison townships of Armstrong County. That naturally makes it difficult for the historian to determine what church is meant when the synodical records refer to "Red Bank".

While the name Presbyterian in the original deed was meant to apply to the German Reformed Church, the Reformed people were not satisfied with their title, and a reconveyance of the property was effected, April 23, 1853, in which Conrad Keck and Christian Yeeny were named as trustees of the "Lutheran and Reformed congregation called Zion".

It is probable that the log school house, that stood here and was used for church and school purposes for a number of years, was erected in the fall of 1828. When Rev'd. Henry David Heyl came to Clarion County in 1829 he soon learned to know of this school house, and held regular services every month from 1830 to 1838. In the last named year Rev'd. John George Young became pastor and served them faithfully every four weeks for a period of 29 years. It is said that he preached here for two years before he was licensed by the West Pennsylvania Synod.

An old document dated January 1, 1844, is preserved by the congregation, which contains the names of forty-one persons, Lutheran and Reformed, who pledged twenty-two dollars, twenty-eight bushels of wheat and nineteen bushels of rye to Pastor Young for one year of service. The last communion service in the old log school house was conducted by Pastor Young, April 12, 1846, when the following communioned:-

Pachman, Katharine	Fein, Katharine	Schafer, Simon
Pachman, Elisabeth	Hein, Barbara	Schafer, Margaret
Pachman, Anna	Metrich, Katharine	Schwab, Fronika

Pattorf, Benjamin	Keck, Katharine	Schwarz, Isaac
Poyer, George	Keck, George	Schwarz, Elisabeth

Ferringer, Joseph, Jr.	Reinard, George	Wolfgang, Barbara
Ferringer, Caroline	Reinard, Elisabeth	Wolfgang, Elisabeth
Heim, Jacob, Sr.	Reitz, John & Salome	- Wunderling, Fr.

In the records of the West Pennsylvania Synod for 1834 this congregation is called Yesney's, after a prominent Reformed family of the community. It is spelled "Jene" in the early communion lists.

On April 9, 1846, an article of agreement was signed by Daniel B. Harn, who agreed to build a good frame church, 40X55, for $1,300. This was a large sum of money for those days, but George Reinard headed a subscription paper with $100, Conrad Keck followed with $75, and John Jene with $65, and the amount was soon raised.

The church was dedicated by Pastors Young and Hoffman, January 19, 1847, Rev'd. William Uhl preaching the sermon. This building was a great improvement over the log church, and was considered a very attractive place of worship.

During the greater part of his long pastorate Rev'd. J.C. Young lived in a little house in the woods about four miles from Hawthorne. When he moved to Michigan in 1867, he left a strong parish of six churches with more than four hundred communicants. Local people still speak of his peculiarities, one of which was to enter the church with his long clay pipe in his mouth and lay it carefully on a window ledge until after the benediction. He was not a well educated man, since he had but two years of private study under Pastor Bernheim to his credit, but he filled a useful place in the Pittsburgh Synod, and had more to show as the result of his ministry than many of the better trained men. Like Pastor Henry David Keyl, he was a great missionary in the earlier years of his pastorate, and often had as many "preaching stations" as churches under his care. He traveled as far to the northeast as Berickville, and as far to the west as the Hammerdiener settlement, holding all his services in the German language.

His successor was Rev'd. C. A. Fetzner, whose term of service extended from 1868 to 1875. About the year 1870 he introduced English services, preaching in both languages once a month. While some of the Germans were inclined to resent the innovation, it seems that practically all the members of Zion attended all services, whether the sermon was in English or German. By this spirit of cooperation the transition stage from German to English was made comparatively easy, and regular German services ceased during the pastorate of Rev'd. J. H. Ritter.

On February 12, 1874, the parsonage property in Shannondale was bought for $1350 by Zion, Bethlehem, Ranggold, and Hawthorne churches, but the interest of the last two were purchased by Zion and Bethlehem ten years later.

During the pastorate of Rev'd. Jacob Ash, 1876-1889, the union between the Reformed and Lutherans was dissolved. The Lutherans asked but $250 for their interest in the old church, but the Reformed compromised with them for $150. The land was divided by survey, June 21, 1887, and the Lutherans then built a new church. The corner stone was laid, October 31, 1887, and the building dedicated by Pastor Jacob Ash, June 3, 1889. It was built of frame at a cost of $4000, but much of the labor was donated. The first Sunday School was a union school of all denominations in the school house; the second was a Reformed-Lutheran school, which met in the church with Isaac Schaffer as the first superintendent; the present Lutheran school was organized by Pastor Ash. From 1884 to 1920 Red Bank Parish consisted of Zion and Bethlehem (near Ohl, Beaver township, Jefferson County, Pa.) except for a short period, 1884-1889, when Cool Spring was added; since 1920 Trinity Church of New Bethlehem has been connected with the parish. The present constitution was adopted, January 1, 1900, but Zion has not yet been incorporated.

Monsignor Francis Valentine Theobald

The compilation of this parish history was undertaken to commemorate Father's fifty years of pastoral endeavors among the Saint Michael parishioners.

One third of our entire history has been during his pastorate. His accomplishments are many, his leadership dedicated to continuing the ideals established by the rugged German settlers who founded the parish.

History being an ever continuing process, we pause to look back at what was, to record what is, and envision what will be.

The Rev. Msgr. Francis V. Theobald
Pastor, St. Michael Parish
Fryburg, Penna. 16326

Dear Monsignor Theobald:

I extend to you my warmest and most whole-hearted congratulations as you observe your fiftieth year as Pastor of St. Michael's and your 58th year as a Priest. I doubt that this record has ever been equalled in the one hundred and twenty-years of our Diocese.

However, unusual as this distinction is, even more to the point is the simple fact that you have been an exemplary priest, that through all these years you have had the respect and affection of your flock. Unfailing faithfulness to duty, kindness and compassion to your people, unquestioned devotion to Our Blessed Lord and His Church long ago won for you the often unspoken admiration of your several Bishops and your fellow priests. I can sincerely say that we all - clergy and laity - are the better for having had you with us.

I would also express my congratulations to all at St. Michael's in this 150th Anniversary of its founding. And here again, it is not merely a question of longevity. St. Michael's, not our largest, not our most prosperous, perhaps not even our oldest parish has long been known for the strong faith and devotion of its people. The sturdy German immigrants brought that faith to Fryburg a century and a half ago and passed it on in all its strength to their children and their children's children. More, with notable generosity, they underwrote the cause of the Missions to spread this Faith they held so dear across the world. May they always hold it dear and pass it on to the generation now growing up!

May you, Monsignor Theobald, have many days of peace and contentment filled with memories of those whom you have helped, comforted and consoled and brought a bit closer to Our Blessed Lord.

Sincerely in Our Lord,

Alfred M. Watson

INTRODUCTION

In collecting early recorded history, we found a rich storehouse of information concerning the settlement of this area called Fryburg. It is our intent to select that information which pertains to the people who founded our parish. Our aim is to set down in chronological order the account of these sturdy families who formed the nucleus of Saint Michael's Parish. In an endeavor of this scope, it is understandable that every bit of information uncovered cannot be included. An honest attempt is made to supply all the pertinent facts, to include those items not generally known, and to record for future generations the recollections of those still among us who have lived so much of this written word.

Of some interest is the manner in which the land became available for purchase and settling. The territory of Pennsylvania had been granted to William Penn by royal charter of King Charles II of England in 1681. Penn was noted for his fairness in dealing with the Indians who had occupied the land, always buying the land from them for a fair price or by treaty. In 1769 the Legislature of Pennsylvania passed an act declaring the title to the land within the original charter to be in the Commonwealth, and including land lying north and west that was eventually acquired from the Indians by the Stanwix Treaty of 1784. Clarion County lies within this area referred to as the Late Purchase or New Purchase. Following the New Purchase, a land office was established and the territory was opened to settlement.

To obtain revenue to govern the Commonwealth, the Legislature sold large blocks of warrants to land companies. Included with other vast holdings, Washington (now) Township was exclusively owned by the Holland Company, a group of wealthy Amsterdam citizens. In 1781 a large loan had been negotiated for the use of the colonies to enable them to carry on the struggle for independence, and this debt was liquidated by the granting of land to this Company. Wilhelm Willink was a member of this unincorporated syndicate, thus many early deeds state "being part of a larger tract of land granted by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to Wilhelm Willink and others known as the Holland Company."

Land companies did extensive advertising for sale of these lands in European countries, encouraging people to emigrate. In 1805 Harm Jan Huidekoper was sent by the syndicate as general superintending agent to take up residence at Meadville.

That same year he purchased from the Holland

Company extensive lands in Clarion County (now) among them warrants 2801 and 2795, the land around Fryburg. Jacob Eisenman, first German Catholic settler bought his land from Huidekoper. Honorable James Buchanan, President of the United States 1857-61, and Samuel W. Reynolds owned large land interests in this area. It is presumed their interests were purchased as members of the Lancaster Land Company, who later bought land owned by the survivors of the Holland Company. The price of land varied with the locality and quality of timber. Huidekoper obtained from one to two dollars per acre for his land between the years 1808 and 1815. No record of price per acre is found for the later years.

Historians have told us when and how the early settlers arrived, a factor of importance is why they came. These were not young single men off to seek their fortune in a new land, but established families, some with very young children. In Germany we find that following the Reformation, German States were geographically divided by religious boundaries. The Prussians lived in the northern states and were totally Protestant, the southern states were wholly Catholic. During the Napoleon years, there was great personal and economic freedom, but following the Congress of Vienna 1814-15, Germany was reapportioned into 39 separate states, freedom declined and poverty increased. The southern provinces of Baden, Hesse-Darmstadt, Wurttemberg and Bavaria resisted unification. This was the Age of Meternich, a time of political conservatism, anti-middle class and armed repression of liberal movements. Following the Carlsbad Decrees of 1819, there was enforced press censorship, supervision of universities, and suppression of liberal agitation. Add to this a depression in the same year, compounded by outbreaks of revolution in isolated cities in 1820. These were the fermenting conditions that fostered migration.

We are fortunate to have available a diary written by a contemporary of the early settlers. Monsignor Antony Kuhls was educated for the priesthood by one of these settlers and wrote a history of the early years.

Similarly, in the spiritual realm, Bishop Kenrick of Philadelphia kept copious notes of his visitations throughout his Diocese, thereby giving to posterity an account of the establishment of Catholicity in Fryburg.

The settlement of Saint Michael's Parish is unique in that most of the original settlers came directly from Germany to their new home. A period of several months was all that separated the old life from the new. Their language, customs, steadfast faith, and deep devotion to God was implanted in the new community, unadulterated and pure. By reason of their diligence and hard work, they wrestled a home from the wilderness, established a Catholic community that was to be the Mother of Catholicity in Clarion County.

First to arrive was Jacob Eisenman, his wife Walburga, children James (Jacob) 14, Franceska 12, Lambert 10, Xavier and Walburga twins 6 years old, and Baby Joseph, born mid-ocean. Leaving their home in Rothwell, Grand-Duchy of Baden August 1820, they sailed from Bordeaux, France September 4th, and arrived in Philadelphia October 10. They traveled by wagon to Lancaster, halting to have Baby Joseph baptized, then traveled on to Harrisburg. There they rested from the 5 week ocean voyage, and were advised by their old friend and countryman, Joseph Stucker to journey westward to a place known as Hick's cabin, or the Kapp settlement. (* A)

Arriving at the settlement November 14, they purchased 184 acres of timber land, and spent the winter in a log shanty found on the premises. (*B) As soon as spring arrived, they cut timber, built a log cabin of good size, cleared additional land and planted their crops. For five long years this first Catholic family kept their faith alive in their hearts. Jacob Eisenman, as master of the house, acted the part of the priest. Sunday afternoons were kept holy with Religious exercises, recitation of the Rosary, and Vespers sung in German. Later when priests passed through the area, the Eisenman house served as a gathering place for all the Catholic families.

Persuading old friends in Baden to join the family in the new settlement was Jacob Eisenman's constant endeavor. Responding to this invitation, John Ditz brought his family from Reuthe, Baden, arriving October 1825. The Ditz family consisted of wife, Magdalene (Witzigmann), children Ferdinand 15, Andreas (Andrew) 13, Jacob 11, Caroline 9, Matthias 6, and Magdalene 3.

The Ditz' first winter was spent with the Eisenman family, in the spring John bought 100 acres and built their homestead. (*C) The two families worked together clearing timber, preparing the land for spring crops.

In 1826 Rev. Terrence McGirr passed through the area, records show he baptized 12 children. (*D) For some reason no Mass was celebrated. As was the custom in early times, when a priest came to an area, all Catholics within a wide radius would bring their children for baptism and to receive the Sacraments. As early as 1820 the Vogelbacher settlement had been established (now Lucinda) and among the families living there were the Vogelbachers, formerly from the Black Forest area of Germany, Francis Tschurdi (now Judy) from Switzerland, the Henry Imhoof family and Frederick Shillinger families. No doubt the children of all these families comprised the list of baptisms that day.

In 1828 two more families increased the size of this little settlement. Balthasar Fassenmyer (Fasenmaier) family arrived in September and the Christian Denslinger (Danzlinger) family came in October. From Hugstetten, Baden, Christian and Barbara Denslinger brought their 4 year old son Frank (*E). The Fassenmyer family included mother Agatha, children Felix 13, Catherine 11, Agatha 7 and Caspar, 5, their home had been Reuthe, Baden.

These four families formed the nucleus of what would become Saint Michael's Parish. The first burial in the church lot was in 1826, a daughter of John and Magdalene Ditz. The first marriage solemnized in the parish would be between Franceska Eisenman and Ferdinand Ditz in 1834. Sixty years later, when the stone church was built, the four stained glass windows surrounding the high altar were memorials to these four families, given by their children.

In the late 1820's, the Anthony Weaver family came from Redbank Township, having emigrated from Germany a few years previous.

It is a matter of parish record that the first mass was said in the Eisenman home by Father O'Neil in 1829. Father O'Neil was at Buffalo Creek, near Butler, and could well have had, as part of his missionary territory Fryburg, and all of Clarion County.

Within a short period of time, more Catholic families came to make their homes. The Leichts, Nicks, Sigels (Sigils), Hahris, Hoerchenroether (Hargenraders) Strickenbargers, and Groners (Kraners) arrived from Baden, and the Lynams from Ireland.

By 1835 there were sixteen German families and four Irish families in the vicinity. From the diary of Monsignor Kuhls we learn that Father Masquelet officiated at the first wedding in the parish on April 9, 1834. Ferdinand Ditz, oldest son of John Ditz and Frances (Franceska) oldest daughter of Jacob Eisenman were married in the bride's home.

On June 4, 1834 Bishop Kenrick of Philadelphia made his first visitation to the parish. Traveling with him was Father Masquelet. They left Erie June 2, going by public stage by way of Meadville to Franklin, arriving there at 5 o'clock on the afternoon of the third. They persuaded the driver to take them on to Shippensburg, for the Germans and Irish living near there had been notified to expect them for Mass on the fourth.

Reaching Shippensburg at 2 o'clock in the morning, they walked seven miles through the woods in the dead of night, to the home of Jacob Eisenman. That day Mass was said, 24 persons were confirmed, and 20 received Holy Communion. Father Masquelet spoke German. This was the first time the German settlers could go to confession in their native tongue.

Bishop Kenrick and Father Masquelet returned September 5, 1835. They had said Mass at Henry's Bend in Cornplanter Township, Venango County, then went by canoe some three miles along the river. They transferred to horseback and rode 12 miles to the Eisenman cabin. "As, by reason of some dissensions, the church, which was begun, was not yet finished, we had of necessity to celebrate Mass in the house of Eisenman, although it was Sunday. Nineteen received Holy Communion, and twelve were confirmed. The faithful are nearly all Germans. The Rev. F.M. Masquelet spoke to them in German."

Apparently there was some indecision as to where to build the church. A plot on the Sebastian Weaver farm had been proposed (now Brady Weaver). A small cemetery containing four or five graves lay at one corner of the farm. As late as 1932, the headstones could still be detected. This area had not been farmed in 100 years, bearing out the supposition that this was sacred ground.

How the question was resolved lies hidden in the past, the log church was raised on July 4, 1836 at the north corner of the Jacob Eisenman farm. The term raising in pioneer days has a special meaning. When a settler wished to erect his home or the community a church or school, trees were felled, hewn into logs of proper length, and on a prearranged day, the whole countryside would gather for the raising of the structure. While the men went to work with a will on the building and the children played games, the women folk busied themselves preparing a huge dinner. The church was 30 feet long, 24 feet wide, and 16 feet high, and was located to the rear and a bit south of the present rectory. Later the exact spot will be explained.

From Bishop Kenrick's diary, "September 26, 1836, before noon. We set out, in a heavy wagon, for the German settlement in Venango County. (*F)

The Rev. Martin Kundig had already arrived to help the settlers prepare for the Bishop's visitation and the dedication of the church. The night before the Bishop arrived, Father Kundig and some of the settlers built and altar in the center of the east wall.

The diary continues: "September the twenty-seventh day, 1836. I blessed a church built of logs on land given by Jacob Eiserman (Eisenman) in Venango County, Pinegrove Township, seven miles to the northward from Shippensburg, under the invocation of St. Michael the Archangel. Forty, at least, received Holy communion."

The feast day of Saint Michael is September 29, thus the new church was dedicated to this Patron Saint. What a great day of celebration this must have been for all the settlers. For sixteen years their one aim and purpose was to build a church and have a priest in residence to attend to their spiritual needs.

The Article of Agreement between Jacob Eisenman and the Right Rev. Francis Patrick Kenrick is the oldest known church record. It was executed the day of the dedication of the church.

The same day the Rev. Martin Kundig baptized the following children:

1) Frances-daughter of Patrick Morrosy and Maugerita Mayers Mossosy - Born April 20, 1836

Witness: John Vogelbacher and Mary Schillinger

2) John - 3 year old son of unknown parents

Continuing with an account written by Rev. Alfred M. Watson, professor at Mercyhurst College, Erie, (now Bishop of Erie) "In 1837 Fryburg was given its first resident pastor in the person of Father Henry Herzog, who came in March and remained as resident priest until some time in 1838. In August 1837 Bishop Kenrick arrived at Fryburg on his visitation and remained for six days at the Eisenman home, where Father Herzog also may have been making his residence. The diary indicates that Father Herzog met the Bishop at Butler on July 18 and accompanied him on the visitation until they arrived at Fryburg: "August the ninth day (1837) ..Towards evening we reached the home of Jacob Eisenman, 13 miles distant (from Henry's Bend). This is near the Church of St. Michael in Venango County. The Rev. Mr. Herzog has been making his residence here since the month of March last. I remained six days in the home of Jacob Eisenman, and celebrated Mass in the Church of St. Michael. Twenty-six were confirmed on Sunday which was the 13th of the month, and 50, at least, received Holy Communion. After celebrating Mass on the Feast of the Assumption (Aug. 15) we went to the home of John Moore, and said Mass there on the 16th...Following a custom which prevails in some parts of Germany, the faithful here are wont to sing hymns in the vernacular, instead of the Gloria and Credo. I admonished the Rev. Mr. Herzog that the rites of the Church's liturgy must not be changed."

For 1840 the Bishop merely notes that he confirmed ten at St. Michael's. However, the Rev. Michael O'Connor was with him on this visit, as is evident from preceding and following passages in the diary. His name, together with the Bishop's and Father Herzog's, are the only ones found in the parish records for the years 1836 to 1840.

From 1838 to 1841 the CATHOLIC DIRECTORIES list St. Michael's as being without the services of a priest, and in latter years Father F. Kuhr of Butler is listed as coming only four times a year. In late 1841 Father Peter Steinbacher of St. Marys Church in Erie, who also had charge of St. Francis' at McKean 12 miles from Erie, and St. Hippolyte's in Crawford county came to Fryburg occasionally. He continued to care for the parish as best he could until 1843. In 1842 the Bishop made his final trip to Fryburg and wrote: "August the 18th, 1842. I confirmed 24 in St. Michael's Church, not far from Shippenville. There were many Communions.

The Rev. Peter Steinbacher was there. He visits the church every two months, in order to care for the Germans chiefly. I reminded them that the hymns in the German tongue are not to be chanted during the Mass, and that I would not lend the approval of my presence to the practice; accordingly, the Mass was celebrated in silence. The Germans, who are very tenacious of their customs, did not heartily approve this my action. The Rev. Mr. Peter Steinbacher preached in German. The Rev. Mr. Patrick Prendergast also preached in English. In the evening I went to the town of Clarion..."

In all the parishes the Bishop visited where people of German origin predominated, he speaks of the desire of the faithful to sing hymns in their native tongue. Although usually tolerant of national customs, this seemed to be one of his pet dislikes, and invariably denounced this practice.

This was Bishop Kenrick's last visit to Fryburg, the next year Father O'Connor was named Bishop of Pittsburgh, and St. Michael's came under his jurisdiction. Father Steinbacher continued to care for it from Erie until 1845, although other missionaries visited here from time to time. Missionaries serving Fryburg from 1844 and 1845 were Rev. Robert Kleinedam, Rev. John Hoy, Rev. Peter Brown, Rev. J.F. Deane, Rev. J.A. Berti and Rev. H.P. Gallagher.

Earliest parish records reveal that in 1841 there were 3 weddings, 25 Baptisms, 1842, 6 weddings and 39 Baptisms, 1844, 3 weddings and 30 Baptisms and 1845, 6 weddings and 20 Baptisms. The need for a resident pastor became acute.

During these years the parish had been growing at a fast pace. Records place the following families here: Merkles, Weists, Mauths, Ginkels, Guths (Goods) Putoners, Oberraders, Fallers, Buechners, Hufnagels and Carrolls. Most of these families emigrated from Baden, a few came from Bavaria, and some from Ireland.

Contributing to these years of growth was the starting of the iron furnaces. Many young men found employment at the smelters, and the process of converting timber to charcoal for use in the manufacturing of iron provided jobs both in timbering and the charcoal-burning. The Shipperville Furnace was erected in 1832, Lucinda Furnace 1833 (*G) Clinton Furnace on Hemlock Creek 1841, and the Hemlock Furnace 1845. The Lucinda Furnace and the Shipperville Furnace employed from 75 to 100 hands and wages ranged from $20 to $26 per month, good compensation for those days.

Small wonder the parish grew so fast, conditions in Germany were worsening, the people of Ireland, already half-starved from years of poverty were hit by the Potato Famine, the word had spread of a flourishing Catholic parish in the midst of a land of opportunity.

While this parish was experiencing steady growth, an experiment in community colonization was taking place at St. Marys, Pa. A group of German Catholics living in Philadelphia and Baltimore banded together to form a Brotherhood. Bitter opposition to Catholics had developed in these cities, and rioting and bloodshed were common, these men organized to fight back. It was their hope to establish a colony where the practice of their religion would not be hindered. They chose the wilderness of St. Marys, Elk County, and the first settlers came there December 8, 1842. A group of Redemptorist Fathers had helped with organizing the colony, the Order at that time was deep in missionary work in northern America. The Superior of the Order invested money in the colony, bought 50,000 acres of land, established a church and a school. Although the colony started with great hopes, the wilderness proved full of hardships that few were able to overcome. About 1844 the colony was threatened with failure. A friend of the Redemptorist Fathers, Baron Von Schroeter, returned to his native Bavaria to interest people in joining the colony. Many families flocked to the settlement, but found conditions there much different than what they had been told. Those who were disillusioned looked elsewhere for a place to settle, they came to Fryburg.

About the year 1846, we find families joining Saint Michael's parish from Bavaria, most of them coming through St. Marys and buying farms in northern Knox Township. This area has always been known as New St. Marys district.

The family names found in records are the Niederritters, Lowers (Lauers), Kerners, Oxners, Hubers, Schneiders, Hartls, Komerels, Lauingers, and Pretz.

In 1835 the first building in Fryburg was erected, next, the Grable house which housed the first community store. The hotel was erected in 1849 and the town became the hub of commerce and trading. People came for supplies from as far away as Lepanto (Crown). An excerpt from the history of Crown parish reads: "...When the wood fire went out, they borrowed a shovel of live coals from one of the neighbors, for matches were scarce, and could only be obtained at Fryburg, where they did their trading."

Historians do not state what year Fryburg was given its name, we place it in the early 1850's as CATHOLIC DIRECTORIES of 1849 lists the church as located at Kapp's settlement. An earlier historian has written "As other families moved in and as the surrounding portion of Washington Township became more densely populated, mild differences of opinion arose over the name which was to be given the settlement. One faction desired to honor George Kapp, the pioneer settler, by calling the place Kappsheim or Kapps town, while another group, including most of those who had emigrated from Freiburg in Germany, insisted that the settlement should be named for that place. In true democratic style the settlers put the question to a vote, which the proponents of "Fryburg" carried, thus naming the town." Reuthe, Hugstetten, Rothwell, Oberried, are all small towns around Freiburg, Germany, in the duchy of Baden. Those coming to Fryburg in the first two decades of the parish history came mostly from these towns.

Continuing the Rev. Watson account, "In 1846, Rev. Andrew Skopez was appointed to Fryburg, and he and Father John Hoy, who had been caring for Catholic people throughout the territory seem to have taken up residence at Fryburg. In placing two priests at Fryburg, it appears to have been the thought of the Bishop that they could together take care of all the Catholics of Clarion County, as well as visit some few Catholic settlements in nearby counties. Father Hoy was replaced in 1848 by Rev. J.F. Deane and by Rev. James Slattery in 1851. In 1852 Fathers Skopez and Slattery were joined by Father Thomas Ledwith, but in 1854 the latter was assigned the care of Jefferson and 10 weddings and 1853, 16 weddings. Up to 1868, 1,500 parishioners had received the sacrament of Baptism in the Mother parish of Clarion County.

Father Skopez was born in Betteshgratz, in the Province of Carnolea in Austria November 19, 1802, was ordained August 21, 1830. He spent some years on the mission in Germany, and came to the American mission for the Diocese of Pittsburgh in 1845. It has been said he was the most remarkable man in the formative period of the Diocese for combined length of days and earnest labor. For 24 years he persevered, undergoing the greatest hardships. On one occasion while crossing the ice on the Allegheny River in performance of his pastoral duties, by the fall of his horse, he was thrown from the saddle, and with a broken hip was left on the ice for a whole night, and when found was nearly frozen to death. The effects of this fall remained until the end of his days, but did not keep him from the performance of his duties. He found no difficulty too great to surmount, and it was a pleasure for him to hunt up the scattered members of his large mission. His journeys were made on foot and horseback, and he often would stop for rest whenever weariness overtook him, often sleeping by the roadside with his horse tied to a tree. It was not uncommon to see him emerging at daybreak from a barn of a parishioner at whose gate he had arrived in the night.

In 1846 the log church was much too small for the size of the parish. Within the first year of Father Skopez' pastorate, he added two transepts to the original church, so that the building formed a cross. Over the center he erected a cupola in imitation of the dome of St. Peter's in Rome.

Previous to 1846, with no pastor in residence, there had been no need for a rectory. When the church was enlarged, rooms above the sacristy were included in the addition, and here Father Skopez made his home.

The parish was in need of a school for the children, under his direction the first school was opened in 1847 in the house of Ferdinand Ditz. Mr. Ditz drove to St. Marys to secure the first teacher, Miss Magdalena Buchheid. The Kuhls diary states this first noble teacher was held in high esteem by all, she continued as instructor until her death in 1850. When she died, she was buried in the childrens' section of the Catholic cemetery, due to her great piety, innocence, and kindness toward the children. Following her death, the school came into the hands of male teachers. Succeeding her in order were F.K. Shiffer, Mr. Feaux, Charles Phalen, Anthony Kuhls (later Father Kuhls *H) Miss Katherine Ditz (who became Sister Aloysia), Messrs. Shoene, Malberger (*J), Bernhard and Cart.

Clearfield counties. The extent of Father Skopez and his associates' missions at one time (1851) embraced Clarion, Lucinda, Fryburg, Crown, Crates, Brookville, and sundry stations in Venango county." The priests who labored with Father Skopez were no doubt assigned to Fryburg to care for the English speaking people of the region.

Records reveal 1846, 5 weddings, 1847 14 weddings, 1848 16 weddings and 97 Baptisms. In 1849 9 weddings, 1850, 4 weddings, 1851 5 weddings, 1852

As enrollment in the school expanded, the Ditz home became too crowded, so the lower story of the church became the schoolroom. Soon this schoolroom proved to be too small, and in 1855 a rustic log school was erected on land owned by John Ditz. It has been told this school was situated just south of the present recreation hall, site of the quilt stand in the grove.

A deed dated June 13, 1856 between John and Andrew Ditz of John Minnick, John Markle, Jacob Hoofnaugle, and Ignautz Speagle, Trustees and their Successors in office of the German Roman Catholic Church of Fryburg states "This lot for the purpose of building a house on it for the purpose of having a Catholic School Master living on it and for the purpose of keeping a Catholic School in one end of the house was granted for this purpose and no other, to have the use of a spring adjoining and to keep spring in good order." Thus the first rural parochial school in the Erie Diocese was established.

For years there has been differing opinions of where the log church was located. Recently discovered in a journal written by Rev. George Meyer, Pastor of Fryburg 1878-1894, under the date of June 16, 1888, is a document (Above) which quiets forever the controversy. The old church had been torn down by 1888, and Father Meyer preserved for history this detailed drawing. The document was written in Latin, the translation is thus:

A B C D = Ecclesia originalis, dedicata ab Episcopo Philadelphiae, Patricio Kenrick, Rev. Martin Kundig - 1 qui abbat parvitate annis, in Milwaukee, diarium generaliter accitabat, qui unum in Titulo, et West. Kundig primum altare edificavit, mox agrius pridem quon aedificanda erat. — Supra A B C D Patricio Kundig erexit cupulam 7 = baptisterium. 2 vestia, pulpitum, et confessionalis. 5, 6, 7. sunt habitationes multorum, et 8 = altare superius.

in Milwaukee. Martin Kundig, who came from Detroit, built the first altar with the help of a few farmers. Above A B C D Father Skopez placed a cupola. 1) = Baptistry 2) = Pulpit 3 & 4) = Confessionals 5, 6, 7, & 8 = Towers had a cross thus, and a rooster above the cross.

Father Meyer had penned on the reverse side of this floor plan the following:

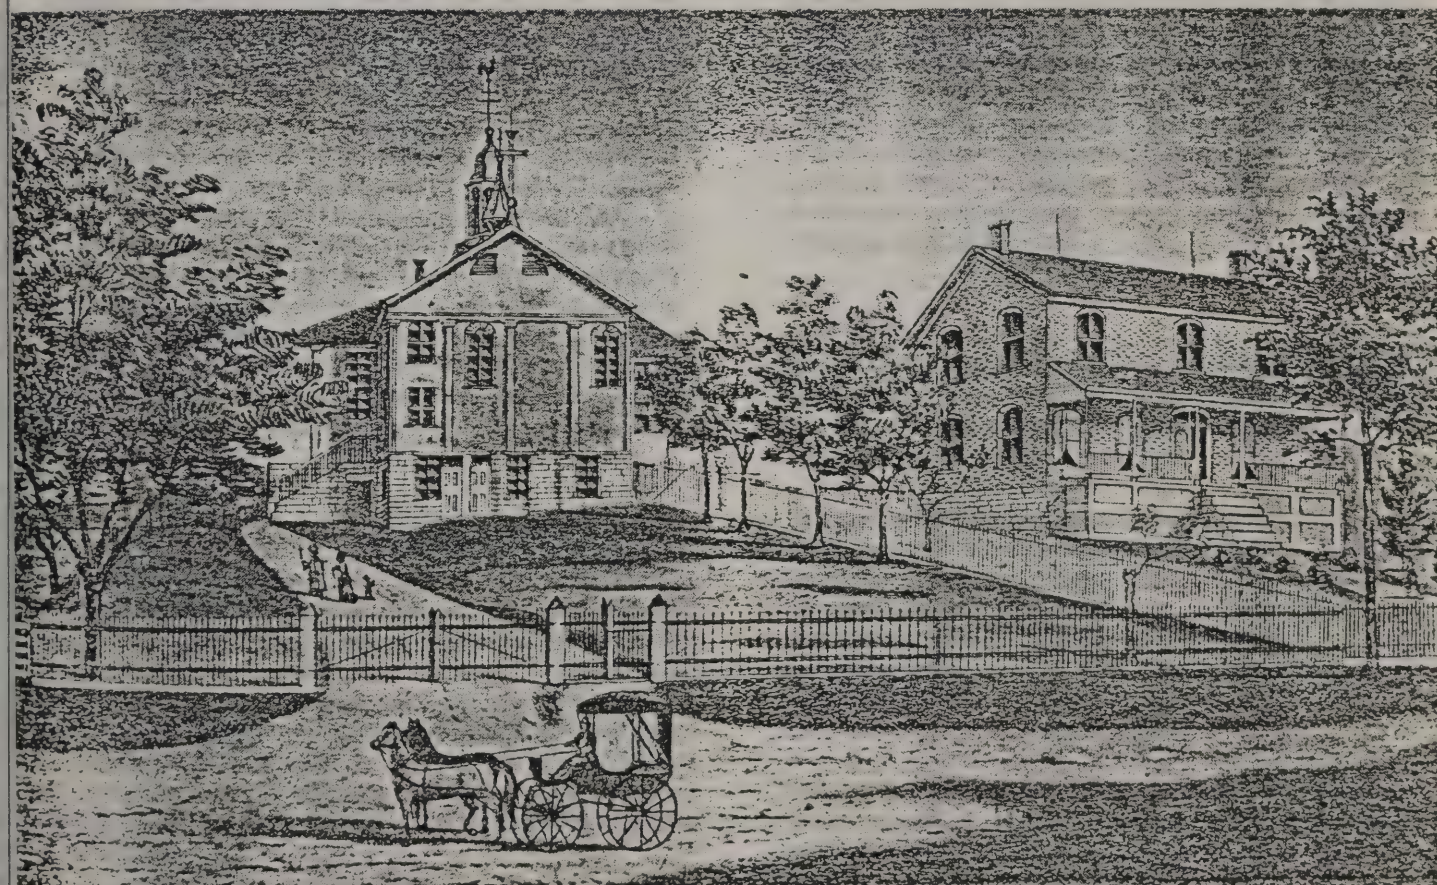

"On the place where Father Skopez built the first addition to the log church, east wing with sacristy, 30 x 24 feet, I am building a washhouse, etc. It is exactly the same dimensions, also the height of lower story, which was used in olden times as a schoolroom."

Keeping in mind that the high altar in the first church was opposite that of our present church, facing East, the old washhouse marked the front portion of the church, and the log church represented by A, B, C, D, would have extended to the rear, or west.

The 1877 picture of St. Michael's shows the church with all the additions. In an old document we find, "As the congregation grew, the church was gradually enlarged, and in the course of years Father Skopez' dream was realized, Fryburg had a basilica. It is an historical fact, that old St. Michael's in its days was the most impressive church that could be found far and wide." A set of tuned bells were obtained by Father Skopez for the belfry. The beautiful statues of the Blessed Virgin and St. Joseph, as well as the Sanctuary lamp and Benediction cope were given by Ferdinand Ditz. Although there is no written account of the church having an organ, it is believed there was one. Ignatius Garner, a talented organist and craftsman, living at St. Marys, built an organ for his church in 1856. It is mentioned in that account that he had built an organ for Fryburg. The school masters teaching at Fryburg were from St. Marys, it is logical to presume this may have been the contact for securing the organ. We know from the Kenrick diary that singing was a part of the Germans religious service. The Kuhls diary mentions their love of singing hymns to the Blessed Virgin, and the "Grosser Gott" was an especial favorite.

By mid 1850's, we find the following families a part of the parish: Speagles, Minnicks, Schills, Olcus, Schettlers, Dechants, Zacherls, Lolls, Stiglitz, Hersl, Sanningers, Sporsers, and Smerkars. (Smaracker)

In 1859 a devastating frost hit the area June 4 and June 11, killing all the vegetation, even the leaves on all the trees. (*J) It proved a great economic setback to the farming community. The ore furnaces were closing in the years 1858, 1859 and 1860, the ore supply was exhausted. These factors contributed to the slow down of new families coming into the area. In 1861 the possibility of Civil War was at hand, in April a call to arms spread throughout the county. To what extent this affected the parish, the details are lost to history. Intensive research show the following men from this parish served: Harman Eisenman, William Fox, Thomas Flynn Felix Licht, John Loll killed at Fair Oaks, Joseph Loll, John Lower (Lauer), Sebastian Niederriter, Ludwig Schill, Robert Shaw, John H. Smith, James G. Weaver and Godfrey Wank. John Lower and Sebastian Niederriter were captured at the battle of Plymouth, 1864, and were confined at Andersonville, Ga. prison. The Company rosters of the Civil War are somewhat incomplete, some information was compiled from family records.

Through these years, Father Skopez continued his labors in the parish and among the missions. Worn out from hardship and old age, he was removed to a smaller German mission near Sharon, called the Hermitage (now St. Joseph Parish.) He returned to Fryburg to celebrate his Golden Jubilee of Ordination in August of 1880. Much revered by his parishioners, they gathered in great numbers to honor him. When his long life came to an end on October 24, 1887, by his request his body was returned to Fryburg for burial. The church had been draped in mourning, the congregation had gathered in the church the evening before and remained praying all night. Following the funeral, a large procession moved from the church to the graveyard, attesting to the love and devotion this heroic old priest had engendered in all who had known him.

In May of 1870, Rev. John B. Kuehn became pastor of Fryburg. Born in Stolberg, Germany in 1839, he was ordained in the Redemptorist Order in Germany 1863, and came to America 1868. He left the Redemptorist Order to care for his elderly widowed father, and became a priest for the Erie Diocese. It has been noted "here at Fryburg the young and rather up-to-date German priest as successor of the superannuated Father Skopez with his Slavish (Carinthian) ways took very well and made a real success of the Golden Jubilee of Fryburg foundation in November 1870.

It could have been for this celebration that the pictured marble plaque was created. It is known that it hung in the old church to commemorate the place where the altar stood in the log church. (*K)

Center of East Wall of the first church built of logs 24 x 30 feet. Dedicated September 27, 1836 by Bishop Kendrick of Philadelphia. Here stood the altar built the previous night by Father Martin Kundig and some settlers. The first Mass in the settlement was by Rev. O'Neill 1829 in Eisenman's house. Rev. McGirr baptized some 12 children 1826. First chance for confession was given to these German pioneers in 1834 by Rev. Maskolez.

Under Father Kuehn's direction, the Saint Michael's Society was formed in 1870, later in 1875 the Rosary Society was organized. No doubt the Sodality was started in these years also.

The parish had no rectory, as Father Skopez had lived in the rooms over the sacristy in the church. In 1871, Father Kuehn built the brick rectory. The bricks used for this project were fired in a kiln where the recreation hall now stands. It is not known if it was erected for this purpose, or if it had been in existence previously. Later, all the brick for the school, convent, hall and church would be made at this kiln.

Father Kuehn has been described as "the childrens' friend, patron of religious training." The parish school had again outgrown its quarters, in 1876 a large brick building to combine school, hall and convent was started. Until this time, the log school had been under the schoolmasters from St. Marys, now Father Kuehn made arrangements with the Benedictine Sisters of St. Marys to take over the school.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes the need for a systematic approach to bookkeeping, ensuring that every entry is properly documented and verified. This section also touches upon the role of the accountant in providing reliable financial information to the management of the company.

In the second part, the focus shifts to the analysis of the financial data. This involves comparing the actual results with the budgeted figures and identifying any variances. The goal is to understand the reasons behind these differences and to take corrective action where necessary.

The third part of the document deals with the preparation of financial statements. It outlines the steps involved in compiling the data into a coherent and meaningful format, such as the balance sheet, income statement, and cash flow statement. It also discusses the importance of presenting this information in a clear and concise manner for the stakeholders.

The final part of the document provides a summary of the key points discussed. It reiterates the importance of a strong financial management system and the role of the accountant in ensuring its effectiveness. It also offers some concluding thoughts on the challenges and opportunities in the field of financial accounting.

School and Convent 1876

There is some discrepancy to when the brick school was finished, some problems and difficulties evolved, but records show Sister Pauline McDermott, Sister Benedict Blasius and Sister Hyacinth Halter arrived in Fryburg for the 1876 fall term. This was the start of 44 years of service to the parish by the St. Marys Benedictine Sisters. It is well to note here that German teachers were of the utmost importance. German was the language of the community, practically no English was spoken in the homes. Many children coming to school had no knowledge of any language other than German. As late as 1909-10, German grammar was taught, those attending school during that time could both read and write German. After 1910, German as a subject was discontinued. Many in the parish today can speak German fluently, although their ability to write the language is lost.

Before the school, hall and convent building could be finished, Father Kuehn was sent to Marietta, Ohio. He died there in July 1892, 52 years of age.

Replacing Father Kuehn in August 1878 was Father George Meyer, born in Iker, Hanover, Germany, January 27, 1847. He had studied for the priesthood at the American College in Muenster, Westfalia, Germany and was ordained there May 14, 1871. He came to America September 1871 for the Diocese of Erie. Before his assignment to Fryburg, he served at St. Agatha's Parish at Meadville. He was known there to be a zealous worker, economical and self-sacrificing, and showed marked abilities in mastering financial difficulties. He would long be remembered as a devoted spiritual Father who constantly had the best interests of his parishioners at heart. This was the stature of the man who would exhort his congregation to build the stone church.

His first endeavor was the completion of the school and convent. He was known to have a vital interest in the education of the children, (*L) The rectory was also enlarged.

By 1880 it was evident the church was too small for the congregation, in that year plans were laid for the building of a new church. Many of the first families to settle Fryburg were familiar with the 12th Century Cathedral in Freiburg, Germany, they voiced their support for building a similar church here.

The period of economic growth was on the wane. Fryburg had been the hub of activity, the center of commerce in the area. Before the narrow gauge railroad was opened into the lumbering country, Fryburg had been the supplying town. Farm produce, grain and cattle were bringing top price, and farmers earned extra income from teaming supplies from the stores to the lumber camps. Oil fever was high, and jobs were plentiful. Merchants and businessmen all prospered. When the Foxburg-Kane railroad was completed, passing through Lucinda, supplies were then shipped by rail to the lumber camps. Rafting of lumber down the rivers was replaced by the railroads, eliminating many jobs for the young men of this area. As the oil fields were depleted in surrounding areas, many Irish families moved on to work in the oil fields of the Oil City area.

Undaunted by the depressed conditions, plans were drawn and the work on the church began. Every member of the parish was pressed into service, jobs assigned to each family. The foundation was dug, native sandstone was quarried from the local farms. Timber was cut and brought to the site. Brick was made at the kiln, teams of horses and oxen were pressed into service to handle the huge foundation stones. (*M) By 1882, the cornerstone was laid. An eloquent description of the church is found in the Davis History of Clarion county, 1887 and quoted: "On a beautiful knoll in Washington township, overlooking the quiet villages of Fryburg and Jamestown, stands a massive stone structure. The building is constructed on the early Gothic plan, of native white sandstone, and the walls built in broken ashler style and irregular courses, backed by brick. The tower is one hundred and sixty feet high. A statue of St. Michael in a niche of the outside wall, is the work of H. Flige, of Munster, Westphalia. It cost $450; eight feet high; is made of one solid stone, and weighs 3,200 pounds.

The interior of the building presents a picture of artistic arrangement and magnificence seldom seen inside of the walls of the finest city churches. The style is of the basilica order, with three naves, the center nave being twice the height of those on the sides; height of center nave, fifty-six feet, and the side naves twenty-eight feet. The ceilings, with all their naves, rest on arches usually called arcades, and between each four columns is a complete system with groined arches, diagonal ribs, and ornamental keystone. Two rows of columns, six in each row, carry the ceiling and support the roof. Pews, wainscoting, doors, etc., are of oak with cherry trimmings. The cost of the church can only be approximated, as the members of the congregation did all the hauling and work they could do themselves without any charge. If everything was counted, it would amount to about seventy thousand dollars; and, notwithstanding several liberal donations were received from outside the congregation and from members of other denominations, the building is a credit to the united efforts of the congregation and an honor to Clarion County."

worked the teams, all artisans and carpenters were given the jobs that fitted their talents. When timber was needed for a special use, a group of men would go from farm to farm to survey what would best fit the need. The timber for the columns was found on the Richard Martin farm near Millerstown. It was of great concern if a tree tall and straight enough could be found to support the bell tower, one was finally located on the Frank Obenrader farm near Step Creek. No minute detail was overlooked.

The building committee was Augustine Ditz, Joseph Fasenmyer, Fred Groner, John L. Lauer and Richard Lynam. The contractor was P.H. Melvin of Franklin, Father Meyer appointed Andrew Ditz, son of the first John Ditz, as foreman. Although seventy years old, he was on the job bright and early every day, no one shirked his duty under his watchful eye. Even the children were pressed into service, clearing away stones and rubble. A common complaint was the children ruined their school clothes carting stones at lunch period and after school.

It can only be imagined what sacrifice, hardship and back breaking labor went into the building of the church. Reminiscing with parish members whose fathers labored for five years to complete the church has brought to light many interesting side lights. The young men of the parish, those in their twenties, dug the foundation, split the stones. The stone masons dressed the stone during the winter months. Stone masons from Germany were brought in, the degree of their skill can be observed in the beautiful detail especially around the doors and windows on the front of the church. A tram affair was built on an incline to raise the stone to the height needed. The farmers

Meanwhile the women of the church were busy raising money with fairs and picnics. A most unusual means of raising money was the one described here, a horse raffle. It is know that Father Meyer was a great horse man, usually had three or four horses in the barn. It is thought he donated this fine horse for the project. Unfortunately, history conceals who the lucky winner was.

As the church neared completion, the problem of how to afix the cross on the top of the steeple arose. Two hardy volunteers, Henry Hargenrader and Albert

Father George Meyer on church steps at completion in 1886

Niederriter tackled the job. Niederriter slung a bucket of mortar on his back and climbed the inside of the tower, Hargenrader scaled the outside of the tower, the cross was hoisted with block and tackle and put in place. It has always been told Henry Hargenrader celebrated this feat by sitting atop the steeple and drinking a bottle of brew. History we do not dispute.

While the church was under construction, Father Meyer returned to Germany to arrange for the statue of Saint Michael the archangel for the outside niche. As a young man he had studied at Munster, and was probably familiar with the work of H. Flige, the stone sculptor. The statue was made from one piece of German sandstone, the figure separate from the pedestal, with an interlocking devise like a key. In recent years the statue had shown some deterioration, and in the spring of 1972, when struck by lightning, became unsafe and was removed. Arrangements for a new statue were made with Kotecki and Company of Cleveland, Ohio, and in the spring of 1974 a new Saint Michael, made of American limestone, was placed in the niche.

The church was completed by late August of 1886 and plans for the consecration were laid for Sept. 8. However, for unrecorded reasons, the consecration did not take place until the following year. It has been recorded that on September 9, 1886, a Pontifical Mass to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the building of the log church was celebrated in the new church. Family records show the first marriage solemnized in the new church was February 8, 1887 between Ann Cecelia Schettler and John Swartz. On August 28, 1887, the church was consecrated by Bishop Tobias Mullen. (*N)

The walls of the old church were torn down on October 24, 1887, the same day on which old Father Skopez died. As penned by Father Meyer on a journal sheet, "Strange coincidence!"

A walk down the side aisles of the church presents a history of the early settlers engraved on the stained glass windows. Mentioned before, the windows over the high altar are memorials to the first four families from left to right, For Christian & Barbara Denslinger, Jacob and Walaburga Eisenman, John and Magdalena Ditz, and Balthasar and Agatha Fesenmyer. The long windows, right side, from the back to the front of the church, Young Ladies Sodality, Miss Catherine Keilhacker, John and Agatha Buechner, Kilian Aulbach, Stephan Graner, and Father Meyer. On the left, Charles and Anna Martin, Andreas and Margaretha Ditz, Jacob and Susanna Weaver, Ferdinand and Francisca Ditz, Miss Frances Denslinger, Mathilde Meyer Fasenmyer. The small inner windows over the arches, on the right, were given by the Saint Michael Society. Those on the left by Joseph Fransinger, Miss Mary Dechant, Miss Elizabeth Siegel, Miss Frances Stubler and In memory of Daniel Martin. In the gallery, Casper Hergenroether and John George Schneider.

Four bells hang in the belfry, all cast at the foundry of A. Fulton & Sons, Pittsburgh. The striker for the clock is affixed to the largest bell, said to weigh 2,000 lbs. In early days before improved communications, the church bells were important as different bells would be rung, each with its own meaning. Two smaller bells hang high, are of a higher tone, the bell on the Fryburg side is a St. Joseph bell. Traditionally, the four bells are rung to signal the end of Lent, and when the Bishop is officiating. For decades the St. Joseph Bell was rung for the Angelus, at 12:00 noon and 6:00. In later years it was rung at noon, and since 1965 the practice has been discontinued.

The organ for the church was purchased second hand from St. Louis. It had bellows that were pumped by hand, two boys were always selected by the janitor to handle the chore. When it was replaced in 1927, it was estimated to be about 70 years old.

For some years the church did not have a clock in the tower. The lettered plate attached shows it is a Seth Thomas Clock, hand assembled by A.S. Hotchkiss, dated Oct. 1901. It is a seven day clock, this type of clock has not been made since 1948. It was installed during Father Hoeing's pastorate.

This view of the church from the cemetery shortly after completion reveals the baptistry was not erected at the time the church was built. The confessionals were in the rear of the church near the vestibules, the baptismal font was at the left of the high altar. About 1914 the baptistry was added, and the new confessionals installed near the side door.

The washhouse was built by Father Meyer on the exact spot of the old church about 1888, in the late 1930's it was torn down.

On August 21, 1890 a cyclone ripped through Fryburg, devastating a large part of business section. The church was not damaged.

Father Meyer served the parish until February 1894, he left the Erie Diocese for missionary work in Minnesota. He later was pastor in Bayonne, New Jersey, then returned to his native Germany to his home Diocese. There he built another church similar to Saint Michaels', did pastoral work until his death August 1911.

The following table shows the results of the experiments conducted on the various specimens of the material under investigation. The data are presented in a clear and concise manner, allowing for a detailed analysis of the findings. The results indicate that the material exhibits a high degree of stability and resistance to the various conditions tested, which is a significant finding for the purposes of the study.

The first set of experiments was designed to determine the effect of temperature on the material's properties. The results showed that the material maintained its structural integrity and mechanical strength across the entire range of temperatures tested, from -20°C to 100°C. This is a remarkable achievement, as many materials would be expected to undergo significant changes in their properties under such conditions.

The second set of experiments was conducted to evaluate the material's resistance to various chemical environments. The results demonstrated that the material is highly resistant to a wide range of acids, bases, and organic solvents, even when exposed to concentrated solutions for extended periods. This level of chemical resistance is a key factor in the material's suitability for applications in harsh environments.

The final set of experiments was performed to assess the material's long-term durability and performance. The results showed that the material maintained its properties and appearance over a period of several months, even when subjected to continuous exposure to the test conditions. This finding is crucial for the material's potential use in long-term applications, where durability is a primary concern.

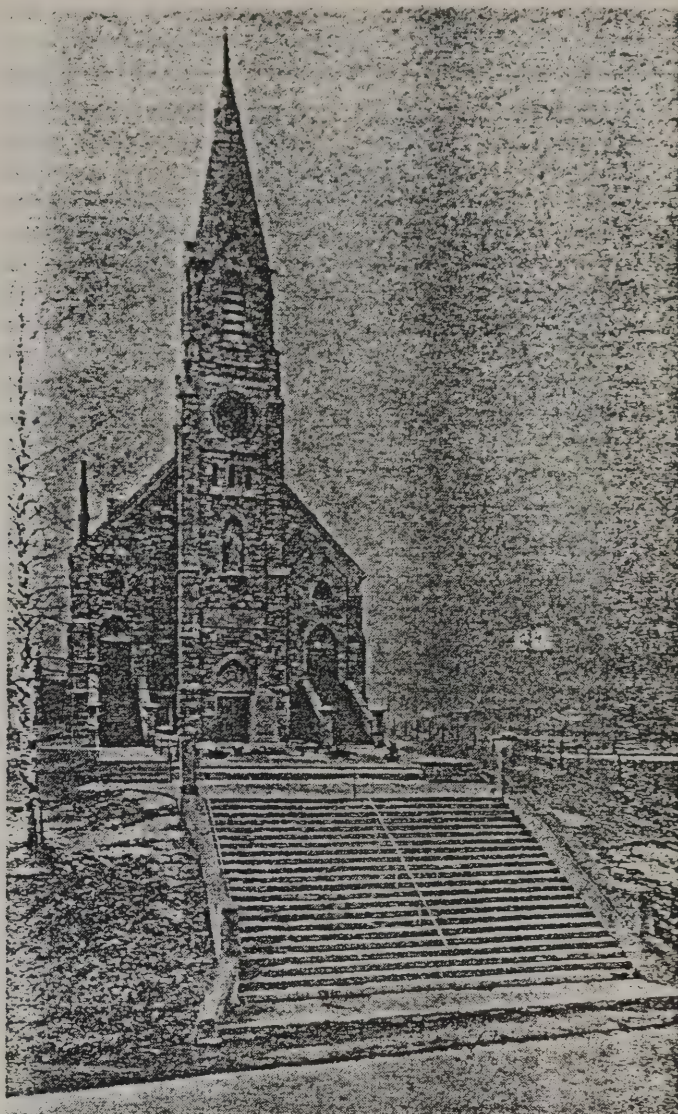

In February 1894, Rev. John C. McEntee was appointed pastor of Fryburg, he had been ordained by Bishop Mullen July 1878. Of Irish parentage, he spoke German fluently, was said to have been "kind and gentle, an example of true charity." While on Retreat in July 1895, he was taken ill, and died at St. Vincents Hospital, Erie. His body was returned to Fryburg for burial in the Priests' Plot.

For a few months, Rev. M.J. Desmond was interim pastor, was succeeded by Rev. Joseph W. Sieverding, who served as pastor until 1898 when he was named pastor of St. Joseph's parish of Warren. He returned to Fryburg to preach the sermon for the 1920 Centennial Mass.

In 1897 the first native son priest of the parish, Anthony P. Fletcher, was ordained. His brother, Bernard Fletcher, was ordained the following year, 1898. The parents of the priests were Bernard and Catharine Loll Fletcher. In 1948, Father Bernard returned to Fryburg to celebrate his Golden Jubilee of Ordination. His grand-niece, Marie Fletcher, was organist for the Mass. Father Anthony celebrated his Silver Jubilee in New Orleans, Louisiana, died in Texas in 1940. Father Bernard served more than fifty years in Lowell, Mass. where he died in 1960. He returned to his native parish for a week each summer for many years.

Rev. Patrick McGovern served for a short period at Fryburg. On July 23, 1898, Father August Hoeing was appointed and would serve the parish for 26 years. Father Hoeing was born in Weseke, Westfalia, Germany December 1868. He studied in Germany and later at St. Bonaventure's, New York, was ordained by Bishop Tobias Mullen, April 1896. Only two years a priest when assigned to Fryburg, he was readily accepted as he was a "thoroughly German" priest.

In the early years of Father Hoeing's pastorate, the beginnings of the now famous Fryburg Labor Day Picnic had its start. Originally held in the Ginkel Hickory Grove, food was the main attraction. Freezers of homemade ice cream were stored in the Ginkel basement, the women of the parish brought baskets of chicken, cookies, cakes, and pies. Tables would be set up in the grove, food served from the house. There were a few stands selling fancy work and trinkets, but the one best remembered was the stand selling bologna. Many who had attended the picnics as children tell of what a delicious taste it was, and what a large slice could be bought for a nickel. A large pavilion had been built for dancing, many a toe tapped to the music of Peter Ginkel's handmade violin. Neighboring parishes of Lucinda, Crown and Clarion swelled the crowd until it became necessary to move the Picnic to a larger area. Picnics were then held at the Ditz Grove, called the Chestnut Grove. A dance pavilion was built, later in 1911 it was enclosed, food was prepared within and served on tables in the grove.

Through these years, the horse and buggy was the means of transportation. At the lower end of the cemetery, stalls had been erected to shelter the horses. Each family built their own stall, some would stable their horses at the hotel barns at Fryburg and Marble, any barn near the church was a busy place on Sunday morning. In warm weather, horses would be tethered to any available tree, a hitching post stood near where the present garage is located. It has been told following the conclusion of Mass, the traffic jam of horses and buggies could rival the present day congestion. In those days it was a custom in German Parishes to distribute Holy Communion at the 8:00

Mass only, many a family would leave their home at 6:00 in the morning in order to be at church for the early Mass. The barn for the pastor's horse stood midway in the cemetery, back from the road. It is not known what year it was erected, no doubt during Father Skopez' years, it was torn down in the early 1920's.

Before 1910, children did not make their first Communion until the age of twelve. One of the requirements was that the child must attend the parochial school for that year. Those children who lived at a distance too far to walk to school would stay "in town" with a relative. In 1910, the age was changed to eleven years of age, and later about 1920 the age was set at seven.

When the Benedictine Sisters from St. Marys took over the school in 1876, there were one hundred fifty children attending. The two first story rooms were divided between 1, 2, 3 and 4 and the other 5, 6, 7 and 8. The upstairs rooms were used as a hall for Society meetings and church affairs. About 1909 the lower rooms were so overcrowded, a room upstairs was created for the 7th and 8th grades. In addition to the three original Sisters, those teaching in the following years included Sisters Aloysia, Rose, Alphonsus, Nepomucene, Philamena, Edith, Catherine, Irenaea, and beloved Anselm, who taught two generations of Fryburg children. In 1920 the St. Marys Sisters were compelled to withdraw from Fryburg as there was an insufficient number of nuns at their motherhouse to supply the increasing needs. Father Hoeing requested the Erie Benedictines to take the school, in September 1920 Sisters Callista Laib, Felicitas Hartleb and Eugene Reder arrived for the fall term. Although school months were September to June, the boys needed to help on the farms would start after the fall harvest, and would be excused for spring planting. Other Sisters from Erie teaching in those early years were Sisters Eyphrosyne, Adelgund, Mary Anna, Paula, Winifred, Scholastica, and Anselma. In the winter months, Father Hoeing had daily Mass for the school children in the basement of the church. Pews had been installed, a small altar stood in a niche.

Under Father Hoeing's guidance, the Young Ladies Sodality was reorganized in 1905. By 1913 the Knights of Saint George had been organized. Additions to the cemetery were the Pieta, and the large cross in the priests' plot. In 1919 the Delco plant was installed for electricity to the church, rectory, and school. The batteries and engine were housed in the washhouse. With this installation, the organ was electrified and the need for the boys to pump the bellows was eliminated. Electricity would not be put through Fryburg until around 1926.

In the washhouse, Father Hoeing had an oven where he baked his much loved pumpernickel bread. The upstairs room was living quarters for the char-boy who helped with chores around the church.

In 1920, Fryburg had its Centennial Celebration. The festivities were concluded with a Mass at Saint Michael's, the first Pontifical Mass celebrated by the Rt. Rev. John Mark Gannon following his elevation to the Bishopric of Erie. A long list of visiting clergy attended, including Rev. Anthony Kuhls of Bellville, Illinois, nephew of Msgr. Anthony Kuhls, former schoolmaster in the early school. Attending from Lowell, Mass. was native son priest, Rev. Bernard Fletcher. The former Fryburg pastor, Father Joseph Sieverding preached the sermon, choosing as his text "Oh Lord be mindful of this Thy congregation which is Thine own from the very beginning." Special music was presented by Miss Genevieve Ditz (Schupp) organist, Fred Ginkel violinist, and the mens choir sang "Wiegand's Mass." An excerpt from a newspaper account reads: "The investiture of the Bishop and the solemn ceremonies that attended the services held the great congregation spellbound. Covering a period of almost two hours the church with its vast congregation was as silent as though it were vacant, the only sound being the intonation of the church ritual and accompaniment of the choir." The church was artistically decorated with banners of gold and white, the columns festooned with ropes of evergreens.

It was stated that those attending Saint Michael's for the first time were surprised to see the church equipped with electric lights.

Following the Mass, the Centennial Monument was unveiled.

Unveiling ceremony September 8, 1920

On June 21, 1921, Father Hoeing celebrated his Silver Jubilee. Following a morning solemn high mass, the parishioners presented him with a closed car. Members of the various societies, parishioners and friends formed in line and marched to the Chestnut Grove where a picnic and amusements were held.

Around 1922 Father Hoeing replaced the original Stations of The Cross, these were memorials given by individual families. These Stations are in the church today, they were repainted in 1970.

After 26 years of faithful service, Father Hoeing was transferred to Saint Joseph Parish, Sharon in April 1924. He served there until his death December 27, 1945.

Parishioners following 1920 Centennial Mass

In May 1924, Reverend Francis V. Theobald began his pastorate in Fryburg that would extend over half a century. Born in Erie January 30, 1889 he entered Pontifical College Josephinum September 1904. Following his ordination June 12, 1916, he was assigned as an assistant at St. John's Parish, Erie. There he distinguished himself for the fostering of religious vocations and promoting interest in the Missions.

Having always lived in the city and having served a city parish, the change to rural life would present many a challenge. Several years previous he had visited Father Hoeing at Fryburg, and had remarked, "It's a monastery" and now the monastery would become his home. Spring rains had made the roads an axel-deep quagmire, on the day he arrived it proved a six hour trip from Shippenville to Fryburg.

Father and his Airedale "Prince"

Father set up housekeeping with his faithful dog, Prince, who accompanied him everywhere. Lizzie Strauch came from Erie to be his housekeeper, and would remain until the late 1950's. Father did not have a car, nor did he drive. Because of the size of the parish, he soon determined he needed a car, and bought a maroon Oldsmobile. He set about learning to drive, it was a common sight seeing him driving along the country roads with Prince beside him on the seat. The car was tagged with the affectionate nickname "the maroon Demon."

Assessing the most immediate needs of the parish, he embarked on a program of securing additional land around the church property for expansion of the cemetery, for a future hall and school. The cemetery had fallen into neglect, individual families each took care of their own plots, weeds and overgrowth were abundant. Securing the services of men of the parish, especially those who had retired from active occupations, the major task of renovation began. The headstones were all removed, marked as to location, and the entire area plowed, raked and reseeded. With the headstones reset and grass growing, a program of church maintenance and care was instituted that has continued since that time.

Around 1925 the antiquated heating system of the church was replaced. Electricity became a reality for Fryburg in 1926, the era of the Delco plant and all its problems were gone. Much needed repairs and improvements were made to the rectory. In 1927 the old pews were replaced, they were given to the Crown parish as their church had burned. New cork floor covering was laid, and it was believed at that time the present lights were installed. A new organ was purchased from the Teller Organ Company of Erie at a cost of $7,000, is still in use today with a comparable value of $17,000.

The Annual Labor Day Picnic had been established as a day of food, friendship, and dancing. With fresh ideas in mind, Father saw it as a possible source of revenue to help support the needs of the parish. Aware of the fine handwork of the women of the parish, he suggested they make handmade quilts for a chance booth. Other booths were added and the picnics became such a drawing card, it soon became apparent the parish needed more adequate facilities. The upper room in the school had been used for social functions, but as years wore on it became unsafe for large crowds, so the possibility of building a recreation hall became a goal to strive for.

As Picnic Day of 1930 drew near, Fryburg was deluged with two weeks of steady rain. Before dawn on Labor Day, Father went from door to door throughout the community, calling on all men to assemble at the school. The desks were moved out of the school, all the picnic supplies brought from the Chestnut Grove to the school. Dinner that year was cooked on the Sisters' stove, and served in the school. The decision was made to have a new hall before the next fall.

Economic conditions were at a stand still, the entire country was in Depression, the Stock Market Crash of 1929 had affected every community. The Bishop was reluctant to give approval for building a hall, but Father persisted. Armed with a workable plan and having a reputation of financial acumen, he secured the Bishop's approval.

In the spring of 1931, Father spoke with the owners of Niederriter Lumber Company concerning plans for a hall. They knew Father was scheduled to go on Retreat. Their reply was "You go pray and we will build your hall." Together with the parishioners, the Niederriter employees put their backs to the task, and when Father returned from Retreat, the foundation was in and the walls erected.

The early thirties were difficult years financially, yet the parish and surrounding community made progress. Many government programs were inaugurated to get the country stabilized. Father worked diligently to secure available government aid for the building of a sanitary disposal system for Fryburg, and installation of new sidewalks. He was deeply interested in community betterment, working on committees to set up help for the farmers through soil conservation, improved poultry and dairy programs. In 1934 the first concrete road was laid, replacing the old macadam one.

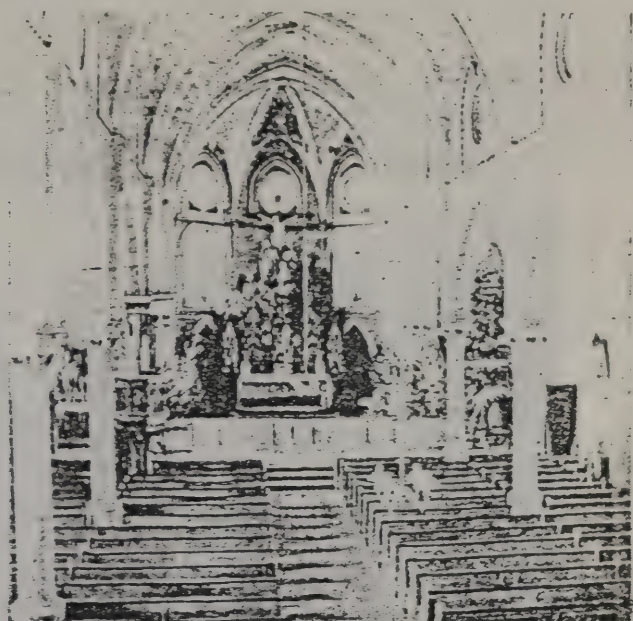

In 1938, the old pulpit in the church was removed, the church repainted, and new linoleum floor covering installed. Extensive landscaping around the church included a sunken garden, new retaining walls, and concrete steps. (See picture page 29)

On June 11, 1939, Rev. Paul F. Obenrader, native son priest, celebrated his first solemn mass. Father Obenrader was born March 12, 1913 in Fryburg, son of Thomas and Clara Wank Obenrader.

His paternal great grandfather, George Obenrader, was one of Fryburg's early settlers, arriving from Hugstetten, Germany in 1841. Maternal grandparents were Godfrey and Catherine Miller Wank, who came from Germany in 1845.

Rev. Obenrader attended St. Michael school and Pontifical college Josephinum, Worthington, Ohio, where he was ordained May 28.

Following an afternoon reception, individual blessings by the newly ordained priest were conferred that evening in the church.

Interior of St. Michael's Previous to 1938

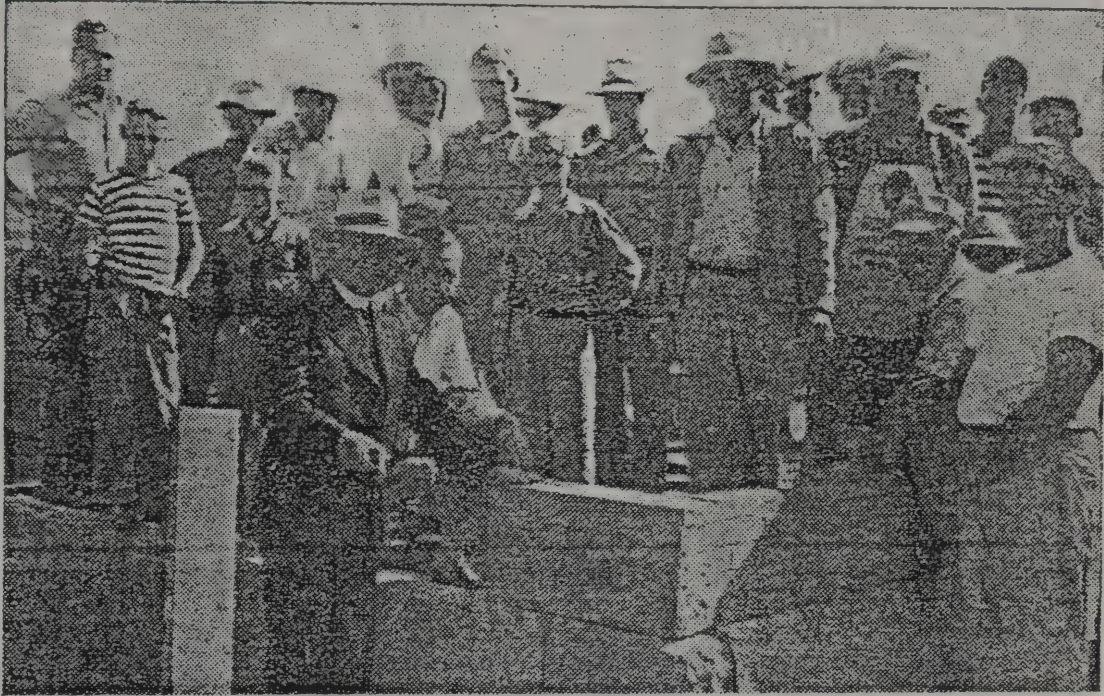

In June 1941, the parish helped Father Theobald celebrate his Silver Jubilee of Ordination. After an evening of entertainment featuring a Jubilee Minstrel Show, Father was presented a purse.

War clouds were gathering, talk of its imminence penetrated every conversation. By early 1942 the country was involved in World War II. Circumstances of war would bring fast change to the drowsy farming community. The young men were inducted into the service, young girls went to the cities to work in Defense plants, food and gas rationing became a reality, everyone coped with priorities. The school children planted victory gardens, helped with scrap metal drives, and bought savings stamps. Every home was touched by someone serving, sons, brothers, uncles, cousins, sisters. Radios brought daily communications from all parts of the world, what once had been a vague spot on a map in a geography book, now became topics of daily concern. Victory in Europe was announced on August 15, 1945. Although a holy day, the Feast Day of the Assumption, the town could not contain itself. It has been told Losh Ditz drove his pick up through town loaded with people beating drums and playing every kind of musical instrument. Singing and dancing lasted late into the night, a time of great jubilation.

Cornerstone Laid For Fryburg Parochial School

With war over and the men returning home, Father was kept busy performing many war-delayed weddings. War restrictions had ruled out any building or improvements, now Father's thoughts turned to the acute need for a new school.

Plans were drawn for school and convent complex by Architect Leon Hufnagel of Clarion. Of interest, Mr. Hufnagel was the grandson of Andy Hufnagel of Marble, who did the blacksmith work on the bell tower when the stone church was built.

Work proceeded and the cornerstone for the school was laid August 11, 1948. By the spring of 1949, the Convent was ready for occupancy by the Sisters. When inspected by Bishop Gannon, he termed it a "dream house." The Sisters were rewarded with a lovely home after years of living with antiquated facilities.

Dedication of the new school was held May 9, 1949. In the fall of that year, a parish school bus was purchased, and for the first time, children in outlying districts of the parish had transportation to the school.

A new three stall garage was erected, and the old school dismantled.

Rev. Francis Theobald, pastor of St. Michael's church in Fryburg, is pictured above laying the cornerstone on the new parochial school building.

The ceremony was held Saturday in the presence of the contractor and his employees and a few townspeople. Nelson F. Karg, contractor, of Fryburg is shown standing directly behind the cornerstone.

The new school and convent will cost the parish more than $100,000 and will be the most modern school in the northern section of Clarion county when completed.

"Elevation to the dignity of Papal Chamberlain carrying title of Very Reverend Monsignor - November 24, 1954

In November 1954, the parishioners all rejoiced as Father was elevated to the dignity of Papal Chamberlain carrying the title of Very Reverend Monsignor. An evening of recognition and entertainment feted Father as visiting clergy and congregation helped celebrate this well earned honor.

More room for the parking of cars during Mass was needed. In 1953 the bank north of the church on the west side of Route 208 was cut back, and moved as fill to the east side of the road. This additional parking area now provided more than 300 parking spaces.

Evidence was found this bank had been mined of ore and coal. Conjecture is clay was taken from this area for use at the brick kiln.

A larger play area was needed for the 222 students attending the school. A new playground was constructed in 1954, including three ball diamonds. (*O)

Early in 1954, the renovation of the communion railing project was undertaken. Previously, the communion railing was elevated with a three step approach. The platform was removed, a new floor level oak railing was installed with matching benches for the sanctuary. The oak was from this vicinity and donated by Niederritter Lumber Company. The interior of the church was repainted, the artists incorporating the most intricate designs, reminiscent of painting found in the old world cathedrals. The columns were painted to resemble marble, the arches a gay profusion of brilliant design. The statues on all the altars were repainted.

Now Father turned his thoughts to improvements needed in the recreation hall. The kitchen was outmoded and in need of new equipment, more room was needed upstairs. In 1956 the project got underway, a large addition was built on the east end, a complete new kitchen equipped, and new stage erected on the upper floor.

By the late 1950's the parish had grown to the extent the two Sunday Masses were overcrowded. Father added a 6:00 A.M. Mass to the Sunday schedule, it was at this time that Rev. Bernard Hartmann, White Father Missionary, came each weekend to help with Saturday confessions and Sunday Masses. Later his occasional replacement was Rev. David Clement. This assistance continued until the parish was assigned a priest in residence.

The church was once more faced with the need for additional parking space for cars. A large area was leveled behind the church, resurfaced and an access driveway cut on the north side of the church in the early 1960's.

New Landscaping completed in 1938

Enrollment in the school had outgrown the available space, in 1963 additional classrooms and a large multi-purpose room were added. Additional play area was resurfaced behind the school.

In April of 1963, Father was again honored by being named a Right Reverend Monsignor by Bishop John Mark Gannon. Later in 1964 he was named Dean of Clarion, Forest and Jefferson Counties.

To honor Monsignor and show their appreciation for his long years of service, the congregation gathered with Father in May 1964 to celebrate his forty years in Fryburg. Following a dinner attended by five hundred parishioners, a program was given "Reminiscing With Father". At the close of the evening, Father was presented a color Television set, and a beautiful portrait painted by Mrs. Mona Rita Guth. In addition, Niederritter Lumber Company gave a new public address system for the church.

Celebration of Golden Jubilee of Ordination May 22, 1966

In May of 1966, a three day celebration marked Father Theobald's Golden Jubilee of his Ordination. The school children entertained Father with a program and presented him a portable television set, the congregation honored him with an evening of song, visiting and a gift of a purse, the School Sodality surprised him with a bird and cage. The final day was the celebration with a Mass of Thanksgiving attended by more than a hundred and fifty priests and sisters of the Diocese.

Through the mid 1960's great changes were taking place in the liturgy of the church. English replaced the Latin, the congregation now took an active part in the Mass with singing and responses. Laymen became commentators, a new altar facing the people was instituted. Through Father's energetic leadership the transition period was tranquil and widely accepted.

In the late 1960's Father John Rosenhammer was assigned to Fryburg as priest in residence to help with the work load of the parish.

Not content to rest on previous accomplishments, Father continued with plans to carpet the church. The church was repainted except for the detail on the inner arcades of the arches. The Stations of the Cross were repaired and painted, and the church carpeted in the spring of 1970.

That summer Father was informed the tower of the church needed major repairs, he embarked on a three year project of restoration. In 1970 the tower was braced and painted, 1971 the brick was replaced and the stones reset, in 1972 new louvers were installed, and the stone on the front of the church was repointed. Additional work will be accomplished the summer of 1974 to halt the deteriorating affects of age and weather.

In May of 1971, the parish said farewell to Father Rosenhammer who had been transferred to St. Joseph Parish, Oil City, and welcome to Father Richard Mayer, who came to Fryburg as Vicar Assistant.

In the fall of 1971 Father acquired land to the west of the church for expansion of the cemetery.

In 1972 Saint Michael's Society donated a hymn board for the sanctuary. Time had taken its toll on the Holy Water fonts in the corners of the vestibules, as they were no longer safe for continued use, they were replaced in the fall of 1972. New plaques of the Blessed Mother and Saint Joseph were additions to the vestibules in 1973.

In conjunction with the 1974 celebration, landscaping of the sunken garden is planned. Plans now under consideration include improvements to the side entrance of the church.

Father Theobald continues to be the oldest active priest in the Diocese, both in years as a priest and years served in one parish. In 1924 there were 200 familie's in Saint Michael's parish. Since that time Father has had 1,018 baptisms, 638 marriages, and 707 funerals. Today the parish has 435 families.

A history of the parish would not be complete without recognizing the contribution made to the parish by the missionary priests of the last few decades.

Before Father Theobald's arrival in Fryburg, his keen interest in missions had engendered a strong tie with the Society of the Divine Word Missionaries of Girard.

Over the years when missionary help was needed for Quarterly Confession, Christmas, Easter, and Forty Hours Devotion, these missionaries heeded the call: Rev. Robert Hunter, Rev. William Hunter, Rev. Walter Heffner, Rev. Henry Schumacher, Rev. Raymond Weisenberger and Rev. Leo Hotze.

Through this association, the support of the missions by the parish has been noted as outstanding throughout the Diocese. The deep faith manifested by this congregation has long been a source of inspiration to visiting missionaries and clergy.

This is the heritage of our early pioneers. So strong was their faith, so steadfast their desire to establish a church for their spiritual needs, their dedication and devotion to God has been passed on through each generation. The inherent quality of individualism remains in their descendants today.

A poignant reminder at Christmas Eve Mass, in the hushed stillness of that holy night, the church is filled with the strain:

Stille Nacht, Heilige Nacht,
Ailes schlaft, einsam wacht
Nur das traute, hoch heilige Parr
Holder Knabe, im lockigen Harr
Schlaf in himmlischer Ruh!
Schlaf in himmlischer Ruh!

May it ever be so.

VOCATIONS FROM ST. MICHAELS

In the history of the church we have women who dare to gaze into the future and discern harvest fields yet unplowed, women whose eyes mark but one goal: God's Glory through His creatures.

At different times in the history of St. Michael's Parish, God planted the seed of a Religious vocation in the hearts of young women who responded to that Call. These women realized the privilege of hearing the Call, "You have not chosen Me; but I have chosen you." Each of these women has served or is serving her Master in the manner in which she heard His Voice, "Come follow Me."

Societies

Saint Michael's Society

The Saint Michael's Beneficial Society was formed under Father John Kuehn's pastorate in the year 1870.

Unfortunately, early records are lost to history. An account of Father Skopez' funeral states the mens' society, 100 strong, formed an honor guard, and for those years, it was a large organization. The society's primary purpose was to provide insurance for sick pension and death benefits. At that time, this type of protection was not otherwise available. Around 1960 this program was discontinued. The Society had quarterly confession and attended Mass in a body, carrying a large silk banner. Previous to 1927 when the new pews were added, the front left seat had a leather holder to support the banner. The men also attended member's funerals in a body, the banner was carried and each member wore a large lapel button with the Society's emblem. When the stone church was built, the Society donated six round stained glass windows. Traditionally, they had an annual party celebrating the Feast Day of Saint Michael, in 1945 the Diamond Jubilee of the founding was marked. A current project is the direction of the athletic program within the parish, and purchasing of sports equipment for the school.

Rosary Society

Under the guidance of Father Kuehn, the woman's Rosary Society was formed in the year 1875. Mrs. Martin (Mary Anna) Ditz assisted in organizing the society, and at age 94 was still an active member. As a group the members attended Mass on the first Sunday of each month and lead the recitation of the rosary before Mass. Each year a minimum of sixty quilts are made for the Labor Day Picnic, the preparation and serving of the Picnic dinners are under the supervision of the Society. In 1954 the Diamond Jubilee of the founding was celebrated. The Society has an active membership of two hundred sixty.

Young Ladies Sodality

The date of organization of the Sodality is uncertain, it is known a memorial stained glass window was donated when the stone church was built. It was reorganized under the guidance of Father Hoeing.

Under Father Theobald's direction the Sodality became very active. The third Sunday of each month they gathered to pray before Mass and received Communion in a body. Each year the Crowning of the Blessed Virgin Mary was held in May. As a participating group with the Oil City District Union, they sent representatives to Sodality Conventions. As well as monthly meetings and picnics, Father led study groups in religious discussions in the clubroom in the basement of the church. They observed Union Breakfasts to observe World Sodality Day, had teas for new members, and sponsored amateur programs. This organization continued active until the late 1950's. In the 1960's Sister Mary Ellen Hynes organized a school sodality for boys and girls, they attended Mass and Communion in a body once a month, and yearly held an impressive ceremony of the Living Rosary. At the present time there is no organized Sodality, in 1973 the seventh and eighth grade students under the direction of their religion teacher, Sister Mary Ellen Cummings, presented the Living Rosary.

Knights of Saint George

The mens' society, Knights of Saint George was organized around 1911, George Ditz served as the first president. An insurance program similar to the Saint Michael's Society is one of its benefits, and at this time has a membership of forty. The society is a member of the Clarion County District, and they actively support a Home for the Aged which is totally sustained by the organization. As well as cooperating with the Saint Michael's Society in work projects within the parish, they annually supervise the patrolling and parking of cars for the Labor Day Picnic.

The Home and School Association

This organization was founded in February 1967 for the purpose of fostering cooperation between parents and teachers, providing financial support for the needs of the school. The library has been expanded by the Memorial Book Fund, visual aids equipment has been purchased as well as equipment has been purchased, as well as equipment for the classrooms. At the four meetings held during the school year, parents are kept advised of current trends in parochial education and the programs implemented within our school.

(A) Hick's Cabin, a rude log structure, had been used as a way station for wounded soldiers during the War of 1812. It was situated on the Old State Road, which had been surveyed and partially opened in 1797 connecting Bald Eagle's Nest, Bellefonte with Erie. Although called a military road, in some places it was no more than a wagon path blazed through the wilderness. A surveyor map dated 1817 in the Land Office Bureau shows this road led west by northwest in a straight line from Bellefonte to a place just east and south of the east branch of Hemlock Creek, then in a straight westerly direction to Seneca, then directly north to Meadville and on to LeBoeuf (now called Waterford). Hick's Cabin is believed to have been at the junction where the road started its westerly course. In 1799 the Assembly authorized its completion and granted five thousand dollars for that purpose. The road was finished in 1801 or '2. The Holland Company subsidized this road in order to open their lands to settlers.

In 1815 the Henlen, Kapp, and Siegwarth families had come from Lancaster County, built their homes and established their farms. The settlement was often referred to as Kapp's.

(B) Within a mile or two of Hemlock Creek there stood about a dozen shanties used by the Indian hunters of the Cornplanter tribe. They came every fall, about fifteen in number, and remained all winter to hunt and trap. In the spring, Mr. Henlen hauled their large quantities of game to the Allegheny River for them, and they would canoe it up the river. These Indians were friendly, the squaws did the trading with the white settlers. They would have their papooses strapped on a board hung on their back, and would set them down outside until asked to bring them inside. Venison or other game would be traded for potatoes, garden truck or bread. As the area became more populated, the Indians stopped coming, and retreated to their camp in the vicinity of Step Creek. No doubt it was one of these hunting shanties where the Eisenmans spent their first winter. The Eisenman farm lies to the west side of present route #208 in Marble, known today as the Joseph Zacherl farm. There stands a small "summer kitchen" which was built directly over the foundation of the original log cabin.

(C) The John Ditz farm was situated on the east side of the present route #208, the homestead foundation stones remain today, lying to the east of the present church, bordering on the Denslinger farm. The elm tree near the house still stands.

(D) The missionary priests who rode horseback administering to the early settlers of this area probably were residing in Sportsmen's Hall, site of the present St. Vincent's archabbey near Latrobe. Some missionaries came from Buffalo Creek, near Butler. Until 1846, all of Pennsylvania was in the Diocese of Philadelphia. Bishop Francis Patrick Kenrick was consecrated Bishop June 1830. He was born in Dublin, Ireland, and ordained at Rome, Italy in 1821. With him on some of his visitations through the Diocese was Rev. Michael O'Connor, rector of the seminary in Philadelphia, and in 1843 when the Pittsburgh Diocese was established, he was named the Bishop. Fryburg was in the Pittsburgh Diocese until 1853, when the Erie Diocese was created, Bishop Michael O'Connor was moved to Erie. He returned to Pittsburgh as Bishop in 1854, Josue Young was named Bishop of Erie. He served until 1866 when Bishop Tobias Mullen succeeded him. In 1898 Bishop John E. Fitzmaurice was named Bishop, serving until 1920 when Bishop John Mark Gannon was elevated to the See. Bishop John Francis Whealon succeeded Bishop Gannon, serving until 1971 when Most Reverend Alfred M. Watson became present Bishop of Erie Diocese.

(E) Frank Denslinger died in January 1909, the last surviving member of the original settlers.

(F) Washington Township was not formed until the year 1843, from ten warrants of Pine Grove, two of Elk and ten of Farmington Townships. Previous to that year, the land around Fryburg was in Pine Grove Township, Venango County.

(G) Lucinda Furnace, owned by James Humes and George B. Hamilton, later solely owned by Humes failed, and was purchased in 1843 by Hon. James Buchanan, afterward President of the U.S. and John Reynolds. They purchased at the same time 4,351 acres of land in Knox Township. In the late 1840's many of the settlers purchased land from these owners, and those residing in the extreme northwest corner of the township became members of this parish.

(H) Anthony Kuhls, a young immigrant from Westfalia, Germany, was a member of the colony at St. Marys, Elk County. He came to Fryburg as schoolmaster, made known his desire to become a priest to Ferdinand Ditz. Mr. Ditz admonished him "if you really intend to become a priest, don't waste your time teaching school," and provided the money for his studies at St. Vincent's Abbey. Kuhls was ordained a priest March, 1863, for the Leavenworth Diocese. He always returned to Fryburg for his vacations, looked on Mr. Ditz as his father and benefactor. His nephew, Rev. Anthony Kuhls, attended the 1920 centennial celebration, was the translator of the Monsignor Kuhls diary in German, "Fryburg and its Early Pioneers."

It is a well-written and comprehensive account of the progress of civilization, and of the various nations and peoples that have contributed to its development. ## Appendix - 2

(I) Professor Malberger was teaching in Fryburg in 1869. He was a talented musician, and the Germans, well known for their love of music and especially brass instruments, formed a brass band under his direction. They became so proficient they were invited by neighboring towns to give a Harvest Festival tour. On August 21 four gaily decorated horses under charge of Augustine Ditz pulled the colorful band wagon full of the musicians to Lickingville, the farmers along the way waved and greeted them at their fences. The band consisted of Joseph Fesenmyer, Anthony Markley, Raymond Ditz, Alex and Luke Eisenman, Jacob Faller, Martin Ditz, and P. & J. Hargenrader. The band wagon was always stored in the parish barn.

(J) So widespread was the damage from the frost it was feared all the schools in the county would have to close for the year. School taxes to pay the teachers were collected by the miller as he ground each farmers grain, he would take a part and set it aside for the tax. Few crops were harvested that year.

(K) As far as can be determined, this plaque has never hung in the stone church. It was discovered in the basement of the church around 1970 during a cleanup project. Only two pieces could be found at the time, although an intensive search was made, it was feared lost forever. While writing down inscription for use in this history in October 1973, Father Mayer kicked at a jagged stone in the dirt floor section of the boiler room, and miraculously, the missing piece was found.

(L) Father Meyer was known for visiting school at unexpected times. The windows in the old school were very long and low, about knee height. One warm spring day he was walking past the school, observed two boys making a disturbance in class. He quietly stepped through the open window and caught them unawares. Discipline in that room ceased to be a problem.

(M) Large tongs were clamped on to the massive foundation stones, then by means of block and tackle, the teams of oxen would lift the stones so they could be positioned. The marks of the tongs can be easily seen in the lower stones of the church.

(N) According to the precepts of the Roman Catholic Church, a church cannot be consecrated while any debt rests upon it. Thus we know the church was paid for when Bishop Mullen came for the ceremony in 1887, attesting to the financial sagacity of Father Meyer and the great sacrifices on the part of the congregation.

(O) Father's visits to school had always been welcomed by the children. In the early years Prince always came to school with Father for Religion classes. Father occasionally had candy in his pocket, when thrown in the air, the children scrambled wildly while the Sister stood helplessly by waiting for order to be restored. When the playground was completed Father played ball in the summer, and rode sleds in the winter. Two generations of children enjoyed his annual Easter Egg hunt and school picnic.
